P R E F A C E.

THIS Book has been compiled from Official Papers in the Foreign Office, and is intended chiefly for official use.

In preparing the Compilation free use has been made of the collection of Treaties published in 1845, and reprinted as a Parliamentary Blue Book in 1853, as well as of a collection published in 1812, from which most of the earlier Treaties in the collection of 1845 were taken.

In many cases the Historical Notes consist of Official Reports, with merely such alterations as were required to throw them into a form suitable for a Book of this kind. Where this is the case, it is acknowledged at the head of the note.

1st March 1862.

TREATIES, ENGAGEMENTS, AND SUNNUDS

RESPECTING TO THE

TERRITORIES COMPRISED WITHIN, OR IN POLITICAL RELATION WITH,

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNORSHIP OF BENGAL.

B E N G A L.

IN 1599 an Association was formed to trade with the East Indies, and on 31st December 1600 they obtained an exclusive Charter of privilege, constituting them a body politic and corporate, by the name of "The Governor and Company of Merchants of London trading to the East Indies."

The Company's first factory was established at Surat.

In 1624 a Firmaund was obtained from the Mogul Emperor, permitting the English to trade with Bengal, but restricting them to the port of Piplee, in Midnapore. The regular connection of the Company with Bengal, however, did not commence till 1642, when a factory was established at Balasore; and in 1652 permission was obtained for unlimited trade, without payment of customs, on an annual payment of 3,000 Rupees.

BENGAL. In 1661 Charles II. granted a new Charter, vesting the Company with power to make peace or war with any Prince not Christian, and to seize and send to England unlicensed traders. A fresh Charter was again granted in 1693, confirming the exclusive privileges of the Company for twenty-one years. In 1698 a rival Company was formed, known as the new or "English Company," which amalgamated with the old or "London Company" in 1702, and the two parties took the name of "The United Company of Merchants trading to the East Indies."

During the administration of Shaista Khan, Subadar of Bengal, the English were subjected to much oppression. Shaista Khan exacted a duty of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on their merchandize, and his Officers arbitrarily extorted large sums from the factors, till in 1685 it was resolved to seek redress by force of arms. The hostilities of the English exasperated the Emperor Aurungzebe, who ordered that the English should be expelled from his dominions. The Company's factories were seized, and their affairs were brought to the brink of ruin, when negociations for peace were set on foot, and a reconciliation was effected.

In 1698 the English obtained permission from Azeem-oos Shah, grandson of Aurungzebe, and Governor of Bengal, to purchase the towns of Chuttawutty, Govindpore, and Calcutta. The Sunnud is not supposed to be extant; but it is more a matter of antiquarian interest than of historic importance.

In 1756 Serajah Dowla became Subadar of Bengal. He had previously manifested aversion to the English. The Governor of Calcutta having refused to deliver up one of the principal Officers of Finance under the Nabob's late uncle, the Governor of Dacca, whom the Nabob had resolved to plunder, Serajah Dowla attacked and captured Calcutta on 5th August. One hundred and forty-six English fell into his hands and were thrust into "The Black Hole," where all save twenty-three perished in the night. On 2nd January 1757 Calcutta was re-taken by a force which had been despatched from Madras under Clive and Admiral Watson, and on the 4th of February the Nabob's Army was surprised and defeated by Clive. Overtures were then made by the Nabob, and on 9th February 1757 a Treaty (No I.) was concluded, by which the Nabob agreed not to molest the Company in the enjoyment of their privileges, to permit all goods belonging to the Company to pass freely by land or water, without BENGAL paying any duties or fees, to restore the factories and plundered property, to permit the Company to fortify Calcutta, and to establish a mint. Three days after a Contract (No. II.) with the Nabob, offensive and defensive, was signed.

War having broken out between France and England, Clive attacked the Settlement of Chandernagore. Serajah Dowla furnished the French with arms and money, and was preparing to make common cause against the English. At this juncture a Confederacy was formed among Serajah Dowla's Chief Officers to depose him. The English joined this Confederacy, and concluded a Treaty (No. III.) with Meer Jaffier Ally Khan.

At the battle of Plassey, which was fought on 23rd June 1757, the power of Serajah Dowla was completely broken, and Jaffier Ally was installed by Clive as Subadar of Bengal.

In 1758 the Shahzada, afterwards Shah Allum, having, in consequence of some dispute with his father, the Emperor Aalum Geer II., fled from Delhi, entered into a league with the Subadars of Oudh and Allahabad for the conquest of the Lower Provinces. The Prince advanced into Behar with about 40,000 men, and laid siege to Patna.

Meer Jaffier was greatly alarmed by the Prince's advance, and at his solicitation Clive marched with all the force he could muster to the relief of Patna; but ere he reached that place the Shahzada's Army had almost entirely dispersed.

On Clive's return the Nabob Meer Jaffier granted him as a jagheer, the quit rent, about three lakhs per annum, which the Company had agreed to pay for the zemindary of Calcutta.*

In 1759 an Armament of seven ships from Batavia unexpectedly made its appearance in the mouth of the river. Jaffier Ally had secretly encouraged the Dutch to send this force. Being afraid of the power of the English, he wished to balance that of the Dutch against it, while the latter were eager to share in the wealth which the British had acquired in Bengal. Clive, though sensible of the responsibility he would incur by attacking the forces of a friendly power, was satisfied

* See Appendix.

BENGAL. that if he allowed the Batavian Armament to join the garrison at Chinsurah, the Nabob would throw himself into the arms of his new allies, and the English ascendancy in Bengal would be exposed to serious danger. To prevent this, he obtained from the fears of the Nabob a Mandate, directing the newly arrived Armament to leave the river. Under the authority of this order, and the pretext of enforcing it, Clive caused the Dutch to be attacked both by land and water. They were completely defeated on both, and all their ships were taken. A Convention (No. IV.) was then signed, by which the Dutch agreed to pay indemnification for losses, and the English to restore the ships and property.

An Agreement (No. V.) was at the same time made between the Nabob and the Dutch, which was guaranteed by the Governor in Council of Fort William.

To meet his pecuniary engagements, Jaffier had recourse to the severest exactions. He resigned himself to unworthy favorites; and it became necessary to depose him in favor of his son-in-law, Meer Kossim Ally Khan, with whom a Treaty (No. VI.) was concluded on 27th September 1760. By this Treaty the British obtained possession of Burdwan, Midnapore, and Chittagong.

Serious disputes arose between Meer Kossim and the English regarding the right of the servants of the Company to trade and to have their goods passed free of duty, which led at last to war. Negotiations were opened with Meer Jaffier, and on 10th July 1763 a Treaty (No. VII.) was executed between him and the Company. Meer Kossim, after sustaining a series of defeats, and revenging himself by the murder of his English prisoners, fled to Oudh, and eventually to Delhi, where he died in great indigence and obscurity in 1777.

In 1764 Meer Jaffier agreed (No. VIII.), in addition to the sums for which he had contracted in the recent Treaty, to pay five lakhs a month towards the expense of the war then being carried on against the Vizier of Oudh, so long as it lasted.

Meer Jaffier died in January 1765, and was succeeded by his son Nujum ó Dowla, with whom a new Treaty (No. IX.) was formed, by which the Company took the military defence of the country entirely into its own hands, and among other conditions the Nabob bound himself to appoint, by the advice of the Governor and Council, a Deputy to conduct the Government, and not to be removed without BENGAL the consent of the Council.

In 1764 Suja ô Dowla, the Vizier of Oudh, under the pretence of assisting Meer Kossim Ally, had invaded Behar, but his Army was completely routed, and the Vizier was obliged to throw himself on the generosity of the English. The whole of his dominions were restored to him, except Allahabad and Corah, which were given to the Emperor of Delhi, who, on his part, conferred the Dewanee of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa on the Company, by Imperial Firmaund (No. X.); the English becoming security for the regular payment of twenty-six lakhs a year by the Nabob, and agreeing to allow the Nabob the annual sum of 53,86,131 Sicca Rupees for the support of the Nizamut.

Nujum ô Dowla died on 8th May 1766, and was succeeded by his brother Syef ô Dowla, a youth of sixteen. A Treaty (No XI.) was formed with him, by which he ratified the Treaties formerly concluded with his father and brother, and the Company agreed to support him in the Nizamut, and to allow him an annual stipend of 41,86,131 Rupees.

Syef ô Dowla was succeeded in 1770 by his brother Mobarik ô Dowla, with whom a new Engagement (No. XII.) was made. By this engagement the Nabob's stipend was fixed at 31,81,991 Rupees. This is the last Treaty which was formed with the Nabob. The office of Subadar had now become merely a nominal one, all real power having passed into the hands of the Company. In 1772 the stipend was reduced to sixteen lakhs a year, at which rate it is paid to this day.

By the Treaty of 22nd February 1845 (No. XIII), with Denmark, the British Government obtained possession of Serampore.

Ye Zemindars, Chowdrahs, Talookdars, Muccuddems, Recayahs, Morsaw-reans, Mootawettawahs of the Chuckla of Hooghly and others situated in Bengal, the Terrestrial Paradise : Know that the Zemindarry, Chowdrahy, and Talookdarry, of the countries in the subjoined list, hath been given by Treaty to the most illustrious and most magnificent the English Company, the glory and ornament of trade : The said Company will be careful to govern according to established custom and usage, without any gradual deviation, and watch for the prosperity of the people. No. IV.

In the name of the Most Holy Trinity.To all whom these Presents concern, or may in any way interest, be it known.

The most noble and most respectable President and Council of Fort William, and the most noble and respectable Director and Council of Fort Gustavus in these territories, animated by an ardent desire to remove all the troubles, obstacles, and differences which have been experienced in Bengal, and to re-establish complete tranquillity in their respective settlements, have, with this view, nominated, vested with full powers, and deputed the following gentlemen to Garethy, the place appointed for the conferences :—

On the part of the most noble and most respectable President and Council of Fort William, Messrs. Richard Becher and John Cooke, Counsellors of the Government.

On the part of the most noble and most respectable Director and Council of Fort Gustavus, Messrs. John Bacheracht and John Charles Kist, Members of the Political Council and of the Department of Justice, who discussed the different matters of which the insertion in the present treaty of settlement was considered necessary by their Principals here ; and after mature deliberation, a pacification was agreed upon, the result of which has been an entire cessation of hostilities both by sea and land, according to the terms of the following Articles:—

Demands on the part of the English.

Replies on the part of the Dutch.

ARTICLE 1.

The Director and Council of Chinsura shall afford due satisfaction to the President and Council of Fort William for the insult offered to the British flag by the Commanders of Dutch vessels, and for the detention of several of our ships, which have been seized and stopped down the river, contrary to Treaties and the alliance subsisting between the two nations, as well as for other acts of hostility committed by the said vessels.

ARTICLE 1.

The Director and Council of Chinsura state, that as they have always entertained pacific sentiments, the troubles which have arisen and affected the good understanding between the two nations cannot but be a source of great pain, and that what has passed respecting the British flag and the insults offered, has taken place without their orders and to their regret.

Those acts may probably have been committed by the people composing the crew under a misconception of orders. With this explanation it is hoped that the Governor and Council will be satisfied.

BENGAL.
No. IV.

ARTICLE 2.

The Director and Council of Chinsura shall indemnify both the Company and individuals for all losses caused by the Commanders of their vessels, whether by their orders or not, and shall immediately give up all our ships, munitions, and effects which may still be in their hands.

ARTICLE 2.

As Dutch vessels have also suffered great loss and injury, it seems hard to insist upon indemnification, but what there is in effects shall willingly be restored.

The Governor and Council are requested to consider this Article in a spirit of equity. In the event of their not desisting, we shall endeavor to satisfy them.

Demands on the part of the Dutch.

Replies on the part of the English.

ARTICLE 1.

That the English shall cause their ally, the Nawab, to return, or at least to remain quiet in his camp, without doing us any injury, and that the Articles of our settlement shall be approved, accepted, and confirmed by the Nawab as a principal, in as far as they concern him, as well for the present as for the future.

ARTICLE 1.

We have already used all our influence with the Nazim, and will continue doing so with a view to induce him to withdraw his army, as soon as the gentlemen of the Dutch Government have fulfilled his orders.

The Articles agreed upon between the English and the Dutch cannot be intermixed in the Treaty which the Government of Hooghly is to conclude with the Nazim as principal.

ARTICLE 2.

There shall be a mutual oblivion of all that passed during the prevalence of troubles which have now ceased, as well as a perfect assurance

ARTICLE 2.

Approved, so far as this article does not contravene our alliance with the Nazim of the country, and shall be observed while friendship shall subsist of friendship, fidelity, and communication between the two nations through the respectable Chiefs of each, without the toleration of any hostility on either side, under any pretext whatsoever. Each shall do his best to maintain this good understanding and to augment the welfare of both, without directly or indirectly aiding those who may desire to hurt either nation.

ARTICLE 3.

As the acts done have not resulted from a declaration of war, our troops and seamen cannot be considered as prisoners of war, subject to a capitulation, but simply as persons under temporary detention; they should, therefore, be released and allowed to depart with military honors.

ARTICLE 4.

That we shall be left in free, quiet, and undiminished possession of our establishments, commerce, rights, and prerogatives.

ARTICLE 5.

That all persons, possessions, establishments, lands, houses, vessels, belonging as well as to the Company as to individuals, and all dependent thereon, shall be declared free, and restored in the state in which they were, in presence of the special deputies of the two parties.

Europe.

ARTICLE 3.

We do not regard the Dutch Officers and troops as our prisoners, but as those of the Nazim. We shall, therefore, be prepared to release them as soon as the Government of Hooghly shall have brought its negotiations with the Nazim to a close, with the exception of such of them as may wish to enter our service, or may apply for the protection of the British flag.

ARTICLE 4.

We have never interrupted the Dutch gentlemen in the enjoyment of their just rights or privileges, and have no intention to do so.

ARTICLE 5.

All the vessels, barks, &c., in our possession, shall be restored as soon as our demands shall have been complied with, or an assurance given that they shall be, on the part of the Director and Council of Hooghly.

The ratifications shall be exchanged with approbation of the Directors on the part of the respective Companies as soon as practicable.

ARTICLE 7.

Finally, the two parties shall be reciprocally guaranteed in respect to the execution of the foregoing Articles.

Agreed and resolved, that the French language, which has been used in some copies of the present Treaty, and which it shall become necessary to use hereafter in its execution, shall furnish no ground or any allegation to the prejudice of the respective masters and principals of the two contracting parties, but that matter shall be regulated according to the practice of the principals who are in the habit of dispatching and receiving similar treaties and acts in other than the French language.

Any separate Articles which may be appended shall have the same force as if they had been inserted in the Treaty.

RATIFICATION.

We, the undersigned, accept, by these presents, the foregoing Articles of a mutual settlement negotiated and adopted for the general pacification of the establishments of our respective masters and principals through our Deputies, namely, on the one part, Messrs. Richard Becher and John Cooke, Counsellors at Fort William, and on the other, Messrs. John Bacheracht and John Charles Kist, Members of the Political Council and of the Department of Justice at Fort Gustavus here ; and we approve, confirm, and ratify the same, in the name, and subject to the approbation of, our respective masters and principals in Europe, promising to cause immediately and faithfully the mutual restitution stipulated in the aforesaid Articles, with a view to the removal of the misunderstandings and disorders which have hitherto prevailed, and, moreover, to bring the contents of this convention as far as may be necessary, by means of a formal publication, to the knowledge of all those who are dependent on us, in order that the same may, in all essential points, be religiously observed, so as to avoid in future whatever may tend to disturb the friendship and good understanding now happily subsisting between our respective establishments.

In witness whereof, we have signed and affixed to these presents the Seals of the two East India Companies, respectively.

Since all the English gentlemen, assured of my friendly disposition to the Company, confirm me in the Nizamut, I request that to whatever I may at any time write, they will give their credit and assent, nor regard the stories of designing men to my prejudice, that all my affairs may go on with success, and no occasion may arise for jealousy or ill-will between us.

No. IX.

ARTICLES of a TREATY and AGREEMENT concluded between the GOVERNOR and COUNCIL of FORT WILLIAM, on the part of the ENGLISH EAST INDIA COMPANY and the NABOB NUDJUM UL DOWLA.

On the part of the Company.

We, the Governor and Council, do engage to secure to the Nabob Nudjum ul Dowla, the Soubahdarry of the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa; and to support him therein with the Company's forces against all his enemies. We will also, at all times, keep up such force as may be necessary effectually to assist and support him in the defence of the Provinces; and as our troops will be more to be depended on than any the Nabob can have, and less expensive to him, he need therefore entertain none but such as are requisite for the support of the Civil Officers of his government, and the business of his collections through the different districts.

We do further promise, that in consideration the Nabob shall continue to assist in defraying the extraordinary expenses of the war, now carrying on against Shujah ul Dowla, with five lakhs of Rupees per month, which was agreed to by his father; whatever sums may be hereafter received of the King, on account of our assistance afforded him in the war, shall be repaid to the Nabob.

On the part of the Nabob.

In consideration of the assistance the Governor and Council have agreed to afford, in securing to me the succession in the Soubahdarry of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa, heretofore held by my father, the late Nabob Meer Jaffier Ally Khan, and supporting me in it against all my enemies, I do agree and bind myself to the faithful performance of the following Articles :—

ARTICLE 1.

The Treaty which my father formerly concluded with the Company, upon his first accession to the Nizamut, engaging to regard the honor and reputation of the Company and of their Governor and Council as his own, and granting perwannahs for the currency of the Company's trade, the same Treaty, as far as is consistent with the Articles hereafter agreed to, I do hereby ratify and confirm.

BENGAL.
No. IX.

ARTICLE 2.

Considering the weighty charge of Government, and how essential it is for myself, for the welfare of the country, and for the Company's business, that I should have a person who has had experience therein to advise and assist me, I do agree to have one fixed with me, with the advice of the Governor and Council, in the station of Naib Soubah, who shall accordingly have immediately under me the chief management of all affairs: And as Mahomed Reza Khan, the Naib of Dacca, has in every respect my approbation and that of the Governor and Council, I do further agree that this trust shall be conferred on him, and I will not displace him without the acquiescence of those gentlemen; and in case any alteration in this appointment should hereafter appear advisable, that Mahomed Reza Khan, provided he has acquitted himself with fidelity in his administration, shall in such case be reinstated in the Naibship of Dacca, with the same authority as heretofore.

ARTICLE 3.

The business of the collection of the revenues shall, under the Naib Soubah, be divided into two or more branches, as may appear proper; and as I have the fullest dependence and confidence on the attachment of the English and their regard to my interest and dignity, and am desirous of giving them every testimony thereof, I do further consent, that the appointment and dismissal of the Muttasaddes of those branches, and the allotment of their several districts, shall be with the approbation of the Governor and Council; and, considering how much men of my rank and station are obliged to trust to the eyes and recommendations of the servants about them, and how liable to be deceived, it is my further will that the Governor and Council shall be at liberty to object and point out to me when improper people are entrusted, or where my officers and subjects are oppressed, and I will pay a proper regard to such representations, that my affairs may be conducted with honor, my people every where be happy, and their grievances be redressed.

BENGAL.
No. IX.

ARTICLE 4.

I do confirm to the Company, as a fixed resource, for defraying the ordinary expenses of their troops, the Chucklas of Burdwan, Midnapore, and Chittagong, in as full a manner as heretofore ceded by my father. The sum of five lakhs of Sicca Rupees per month for their maintenance was further agreed to be paid by my father; I agree to pay the same out of my treasury, while the exigency for keeping up so large an army continues. When the Company's occasions will admit of a diminution of the expenses they are put to on account of those troops, the Governor and Council will then relieve me from such a proportion of this assignment, as the increased expenses incurred by keeping up the whole force necessary for the defence of the Provinces will admit of: And as I esteem the Company's troops entirely equal thereto and as my own, I will only maintain such as are immediately necessary for the dignity of my person and government, and the business of my collections throughout the Provinces.

ARTICLE 5.

I do ratify and confirm to the English the privilege granted to them by their Firmaund and several Husbulhookums of carrying on their trade by means of their own dustuck, free from all duties, taxes or impositions, in all parts of the country, excepting in the article of salt, on which a duty of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. is to be levied on the rowana or Hooghly market price.

ARTICLE 6.

I give to the Company the liberty of purchasing half the saltpetre produced in the country of Purnea, which their Gomastahs shall send to Calcutta; the other half shall be collected by my Fouzdar for the use of my offices; and I will suffer no other persons to make purchases of this article in that country.

ARTICLE 7.

In the Chuckla of Sylhet, for the space of five years, commencing with the Bengal year 1171, my Fouzdar and a Gomastah on the part of the Company shall jointly provide chunam, of which each shall defray half the expense, and half the chunam so made shall be given to the Company. BENGAL

No. IX.

ARTICLE 8.

Although I should occasionally remove to other places in the Provinces, I agree that the books of the Circar shall be always kept and the business conducted at Moorshedabad, and that shall, as heretofore, be the seat of my government: and wherever I am, I consent that an English gentleman shall reside with me to transact all affairs between me and the Company, and that a person of high rank shall also reside on my part at Calcutta to negotiate with the Governor and Council.

ARTICLE 9.

I will cause the Rupees coined in Calcutta to pass in every respect equal to the siccas of Moorshedabad, without any deduction of batta; and whosoever shall demand batta shall be punished: The annual loss on coinage, by the fall of batta on the issuing of the new siccas, is a very heavy grievance to the country; and, after mature consideration, I will, in concert with the Governor and Council, pursue whatever may appear the best method for remedying it.

ARTICLE 10.

I will allow no Europeans whatever to be entertained in my service, and if there already be any, they shall be immediately dismissed.

ARTICLE 11.

The kistbundee for payment of the restitution to the sufferers in the late troubles, as executed by my father, I will see faithfully paid. No delays shall be made in this business.

ARTICLE 12.

I confirm and will abide by the Treaty which my father formerly made with the Dutch.

BENGAL.No. X.

ARTICLE 13.

If the French come into the country I will not allow them to erect any fortifications, maintain forces, or hold lands, zemindarries, &c., but they shall pay tribute, and carry on their trade as in former times.

ARTICLE 14.

Some regulations shall be hereafter settled between us for deciding all disputes which may arise between the English Gomastahs and my officers, in the different parts of the country.

In testimony whereof we, the said Governor and Council, have set our hands, and affixed the seal of the Company to one part hereof; and the Nabob before-named hath set his hand and seal to another part.

RAJAH GOVIND CHUNDER, of Cachar, succeeded his brother, Kishen Chunder, in 1813. In 1818 Cachar was invaded by Marjeet Sing, from Munnipore, and continued to be the arena of contention between the sons of Jai Sing of Munnipore, until the commencement of 1823, when Gumbheer Sing obtained the ascendancy. Soon afterwards the Burmese invaded Cachar, from which they were expelled during the first Burmese War, when the legitimate Rajah, Govind Chunder, was restored by Treaty (No. XIV.)

Rajah Govind Chunder's authority was successfully resisted in the hilly tracts on the north by Toola Ram. This man's father, Kacha Din, had been a khidmutgar in the service of the late Rajah Kishen Chunder. He was appointed to an office in the hills, but rebelled, and was murdered by Govind Chunder. Toola Ram, then a chuprassie in the Rajah's service, fled to the hills, whence every effort of Govind Chunder failed to expel him. In order to terminate a contest so injurious to the welfare of the country, Rajah Govind Chunder was induced to assign to Toola Ram the tract of country in the hills then in his possession.

In 1830 Govind Chunder was assassinated, and there being no descendant, either lineal or adopted, Cachar, with the exception of the hilly tract assigned to Toola Ram, was annexed to the British dominions.

In 1832 Toola Ram was arrested on a charge of murder. It appears he ordered the execution of two men who had attempted his life, but for this act he was not deemed amenable to British jurisdiction, and on 16th October 1834 he entered into an Agreement (No. XV.), in which he resigned the western and retained the eastern portion of his country.

In October 1844 Toola Ram, being stricken in years, transferred the management of his State to his two sons, Nookoolram and Brijnath. Toola Ram died in 1850, and in 1853 Nookoolram was killed in an attack on the Dishomah Nagas, and the country, the Sovereignty of which had really lapsed on the death of Govind Chunder, was resumed CACHAR. by the British Government.

On the southern frontier of Cachar lies the territory of the Lhooshai Kookees. This tribe is a most warlike one, and in 1848-49 drove up the Kookies from the south into Cachar. The political relations on this frontier were at that time in the hands of Colonel Lister, and this Officer, by a judicious employment of the Kookies as soldiers, and by an expedition undertaken against the Lhooshais to punish them for certain depredations, exerted such a salutary influence over them that they have never given trouble since. The Kookies that were driven into our territories are now comfortably settled within them, and their young men form the Levy, which is an exceedingly useful and cheap body of Military Police in the district. But the Lhooshais are, in their turn, being pressed up northwards by another tribe still more powerful than themselves, called the Pois, who are approaching from the south-east. Several deputations have been sent to us from their Rajahs, praying for assistance in muskets and ammunition, and offering to settle in our territory as subjects. These deputations are ever kindly received, the assistance required consistently refused, but protection offered should they be necessitated to quit their country and flee into ours, on their submitting to our laws. Communication with the Lhooshais is now frequent, Bengalee traders going up to their villages, and returning with ivory and wax in return for salt, clothes, &c. Timber merchants are also now in the habit of employing Lhooshais in felling the trees in their forests, which are floated down the mountain streams to the Barak. This state of things is not of long occurrence, and but a few years ago the southern parts of our plains lived in a constant state of panic, and without any communication with the savages.

The British Government has no treaty with Tipperah.

The Rajah of Tipperah stands in a peculiar position, inasmuch as in addition to the Hill Territory known as "Independent Tipperah," he is the holder of a very considerable Zemindarry in the district of Tipperah in the plains; he receives his investiture from the British Government, and is required to pay the usual nuzzerrana. The succession has been usually determined by the appointment of a

CACHAR. 'Joob-Raj' or Heir Apparent, whom the Rajah is considered incompetent
No. XIV. to appoint, until he has himself been invested by the British Government. The present Rajah was recognised by the Government in 1849. Independent Tipperah is not held by gift from the British Government or its predecessors, or under any title derived from it or them, never having been subjected by the Mogul.

ARTICLE 3.

The Honorable Company engages to protect the territory of Cachar from external enemies, and to arbitrate any differences that may arise between the Rajah and other States. ARTICLE 5.

If the Rajah should fail in the performance of the above Article, the Honorable Company will be at liberty to occupy and attach, in perpetuity, to their other possessions, a sufficient tract of the Cachar country, to provide for the future realization of the tribute.

ARTICLE 6.

JYNTIA AND COSSIAH HILL TRIBES.

THE Cossiah and Jyntia Hill Territory is administered by an Assistant attached to the Assam Commission. The value of the export and import trade of the country with Assam is about Rupees 30,000 a year; and with the Bengal Plains about $10\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, the exports being 7 lakhs. The total revenue from land and taxes in 1857 amounted to Rupees 23,023.

The first Treaty (No. XVI.) with Jyntia was concluded in 1824. The Rajah Ram Sing rendered no assistance during the Burmese war, but his country was taken under protection, and the Rajah agreed to acknowledge allegiance to the British. In 1835 it having been proved that the Rajah Raj Indro Sing, while heir apparent, had, in 1832, connived at, if he had not actually ordered, the kidnapping of four British subjects for the purpose of human sacrifice, Government confiscated his possessions in the Plains, and the Rajah voluntarily surrendered his possessions in the Hills, and accepted a pension of Rupees 500 a month.

The population of the Jyntia Hills is about 40,000 souls, and of the Cossiah Hills about 82,400.

The Cossiah States are twenty-five in number, of which five* are commonly called the "Semi-independent States." The Chiefs exercise civil and criminal jurisdiction over their own people in all matters pertaining exclusively to them. With exception of Cherra Poonjee and Khyrim the British Government has no formal agreement with the Chiefs of any of these five States, but the Chiefs have always been required to deliver up criminal refugees, and to obey all the mandates of the British Government, and it has been the invariable practice to treat them all in the same manner as the Cherra Rajah is treated.

The Treaty (No. XVII.) with the Cherra Rajah, Dewan Sing, was concluded on 10th September 1829, and on the same date the Rajah ceded (No. XVIII.) land for the station of Cherra Poonjee in exchange for an equivalent in the Sylhet Zillah.

JYNTIA

TRIBES.

In the same year an Engagement (No. XIX.) was made with the Sirdars of Byoung Poonjee, by which they bound themselves to be subject to Dewan Sing.

In 1830 his nephew and successor, Soobha Sing, ceded (No. XX.) additional land for the Station of Cherra Poonjee, and in 1840 Soobha Sing gave prepetual leases (Nos. XXI. and XXII.) to the British Government of the Coal Hills at Cherra Poonjee, and Byoung Poonjee. Soobha Sing was succeeded by Ram Sing, who, on 16th May 1857, signed an Agreement (No. XXIII.) confirming the engagements of his predecessors.

On the death of Sing Manic, Rajah of Khyrim, his grand nephew, Rabbon Sing, was elected by the Chiefs and Elders of the country, and the election was confirmed, and an Agreement, the same as that executed by the Nungklow Chief (See No. XXVI.), was taken from Rabbon Sing.

The minor States, known as the "Dependent States," are twenty* in number. The chief of these is the State of Nungklow.

NUNGKLOW.

A Treaty (No. XXIV.), with a view to open up communication between Sylhet and Assam, was formed in 1826 with Rajah Teerut Sing, by which the Rajah, on receiving the protection of the British Government, voluntarily surrendered his independence.

In 1829 Teerut Sing was prominently concerned in the massacre of two British Officers, with about sixty native subjects. Hostilities ensued, and after a harassing war with the Hill Chiefs, most of whom joined Teerut Sing, the Rajah surrendered. He was imprisoned for life in the Dacca jail, and Government conferred the Chiefship on his nephew Rujun Sing, who was installed on 29th March 1834, and with whom a new Engagement (No. XXV.) was made.

JYNTIA
AND

TRIBES. Rujun Sing became deeply involved in debt, and abdicated in favor of Jeedar Sing, on condition of his debts being paid, and a stipend being allowed him.

Jeedar Sing died in 1856, and the succession was disputed between Rujun Sing and Bur Sing, a distant collateral relation of Jeedar Sing in the female line. Rujun Sing died before the dispute was settled, and as Bur Sing was considered to have no claims of family, and was objected to by many of the Sirdars, Government resumed the country. The Home Government, however, disapproved of the resumption, and directed that a Chief should be chosen by the assembled Muntrees and heads of clans. The choice fell on Bur Sing, and the Chiefship was conferred on him and his lineal heirs for ever, subject to certain conditions (No. XXVI.)

MOLEEM.

After the conquest of the Moleem country in 1829, the Rajah Bur Manick, then called Rajah of Khyrim, ceded (No. XXVII.) to the British Government the Territory on the south and east of the Oomean or Boga Panee River. In 1834 a proposal was made to restore this tract to the Rajah, but the proposal was never carried out.

In 1860 the chief men of Moleem presented a petition, complaining against Rajah Hazar Sing. As the Rajah was extremely unpopular, violated the customs of the country, and gave himself up to habitual drunkenness, he was deposed in 1861, and Melay Sing was elected by the Elders and people in his stead. A new Engagement (No. XXVIII.), the same as that with the Nungklow Chief, was taken from Melay Sing.

No Engagements were ever made with Nobo Sopho, Syung, Moflung Poonjee, and Lyksom Poonjee. Engagements were made with Mowyang on 24th June 1829, and with Dowanah Notoormen on 5th January 1833, but no copies of them exist. The Treaties with the other Chiefs are given under Nos. XXIX. to XLII., and also an Engagement with the Elders and Sirdars of Soopar Poonjee, which was conquered in 1829. In 1860, on the succession of Dabhur Sing, Rajah of Bhawul, an Engagement, similar to the Nungklow Agreement, was made with him.

To the west of the Cossiah Hills lies the Garrow Country. The climate of the country is deadly, and we have little intercourse with the Garrows. The Garrows in more immediate relation with us either pay revenue, or tribute in the shape of fines for offences. The others are usually considered independent.

The Garrows were in the constant habit of making predatory incursions upon our frontier villages in the Plains, and decapitating their victims, and carrying off their heads as funeral offerings to their departed Chiefs. It has frequently been found necessary to punish these outrages by sending a military expedition into the country, and by closing the markets in the Plains frequented by the Garrows.

RESPECTFULLY SHOWETH,

That previous to the occupation of these Hills by the Honorable Company, we were appointed to the offices of the four Wahadadars of our village of Cheyla Poonjee, and protected the people by conducting enquiries and investigations in our country. That when these Hills afterwards came into the possession of the Honorable Company, we were confirmed in our appointments, agreeably to former custom, with the approval of the late Mr. David Scott, and most efficiently protected the inhabitants, by investigating cases in the country by our own authority ; but during the last two or three years, certain Cossiahs of our village, who are unruly, powerful, and evil-advising persons, have formed themselves into a party to carry out their own purposes, and are oppressing and harassing some of the poor Cossiahs, and if they complain, and we send for these persons through our officers, they openly resist our authority and assault them, besides making various remarks about us. When we also summon defendants in cases under trial before us, these violent individuals screen them, and in resistance of orders beat our men and snatch away the defendants from them ; thus causing great annoyance to the poor people under our control, which we have frequently complained of to you by petitions ; and the individuals of this party who harass the poor people in this manner are, moreover, not unknown to you. It is besides probable that unless this faction is put down, serious affrays and murders may hereafter occur, attended with ruination to our country, which it will be difficult for us to account for to you, and we shall be punished by Providence if the poor are violently oppressed by such persons of our village as have numerous friends and relatives, and we, as rulers of the country, do not redress their grievances. But as the calamities of our poor people cannot be removed, or the country rendered tranquil without your assistance, we therefore throw ourselves on your protection, and voluntarily present this petition, soliciting that the persons under our control, who resist our officers, may be tried by you, and that you will, on our solicitation, grant us your help to bring to our Durbars all such persons as pertinaciously refuse to attend there when we send for them ; and if any persons who are dissatisfied with our orders should appeal to you against them, or if we oppress or injure any persons, and they complain to you about it, we will agree to any investigations and orders that you may pass, and will never act in contravention of them, but will obey them without urging any

The request of the Wahadadars is granted, and it is hereby ordered that a Purwannah be written to them, to the effect that if any person hereafter oppresses or injures another, and the person so oppressed complains to the Wahadadars, and the oppressor, when called for by them, obstinately and in disobedience of the Wahadadars' orders refuses to attend at their Durbars, they must send him to Cherra Poonjee with the witnesses to the fact of the opposition made to their authority, and the prosecutor and his witnesses, when proper orders will be passed.

in the Mahram Territory.

KNOW HEREBY,

It appears that Oober Sing, Dhollah Rajah of the Mahram territory, having deceased, you requested to be appointed Rajah there, on the ground of the country having been under the control of your uncle, the late Songaph, Dhollah Rajah, your application being supported by a petition from Oomon Muntree, Oolar Sing Rajah, and other persons consenting to it; but final orders were deferred on it, in consequence of Ramsyc, Kallah Rajah of Nonglang Poonjee, in that territory, having set up a claim founded on the right of his uncle, the late Ram Sing, Kallah Rajah, to which Oojeet Lungdeo, Ooksan Sirdar, and certain other persons signified their assent in a petition they presented. As you and Ramsye Rajah, have, however, this day come to an amicable arrangement, and filed a deed of compromise to the effect, that of the two Kallah and Dhollah Rajahs of Mahram, the Kallah Rajah is to be subordinate to the Dhollah Rajah, and the investigations connected with the duties of the Raj are to be conducted by them together in consultation, and the profits derived therefrom are to be enjoyed by them both, and as you have therein stated that you are to be Rajah in the place of the aforesaid Dhollah Rajah, retaining the said Ramsye Rajah as your subordinate, and investigating and deciding cases occurring in the country in concert and consultation with him, which are otherwise to be considered null and void, and the afore-mentioned Ramsye Kallah Rajah has expressed his willingness to remain as your subordinate, and according to former custom to investigate and decide cases taking place in the country in company and consultation with you, the decisions being invalid, unless so conducted, &c., besides which, you two persons are, agreeably to previous practice, to enjoy the profits derived from the country, and to share the losses incurred therein, and as you have assented to the above stated terms, and requested that a Perwannah may be given to you, appointing you as Rajah in accordance therewith, you are, therefore, informed that you are hereby appointed Rajah in the room of the Dhollah Rajah of the territory of Mahram, and it will be your duty to conduct investigations and give decisions there as stipulated in the deed of compromise, and according to your own sense of proper justice, retaining Ramsye Kallah Rajah as your subordinate, and both of you acting together and in consultation to do what is incumbent on you. You will, moreover, obey all orders that may be issued to you, from time to time, on the part of the Honorable Company, without delay, observing the terms agreed on in the deed of compromise referred to.

MUNNIPORE.

UP to about the year 1714 the Annals of Munnipore possess but little interest. In that year Gureeb Nawaz succeeded to power. He made several successful invasions of Burmah, but made no permanent conquest.

Gureeb Nawaz had three sons, named Sham Shae, Oogut Shae, and Burut Shae. Oogut Shae murdered his father and his elder brother, but was expelled by Burut Shae, who reigned two years, and was succeeded by Gooroo Sham, son of Sham Shae. Gooroo Sham associated with himself his brother Jai Sing, and they ruled alternately until Gooroo Sham's death, about 1764, when the sole authority fell to Jai Sing.

After the death of Gureeb Nawaz the Burmese invaded Munnipore, and Jai Sing having sought the aid of the British, a Treaty of alliance, offensive and defensive, was negotiated on 14th September 1762. The force sent to assist Munnipore was, however, recalled, and in October of the following year Gooroo Sham confirmed the Treaty which had been made with Jai Sing, with some modifications. No copies of these Treaties appear to be extant.

From this time communication between the British and Munnipore appears to have ceased. On the death of Jai Sing, in 1799, the country was distracted for twenty-five years by the quarrels of his sons for power. But on the outbreak of the first Burmese War negotiations were opened with Gumbheer Sing, one of the sons of Jai Sing, who was declared independent by the Treaty of Yandaboo.* The two ranges of hills between the eastern and western bends of the Barak River were annexed to Munnipore in 1833 (No. XLIII.). After the Burmese War the Nengthee River was made the boundary of Gumbheer Sing's territory to the east. But this was disputed by the Burmese, and the British Government, with a view of gratifying the Burmese, restored to them the Kubo Valley, and fixed the eastern base of the Yomadoung Hills as the boundary of

On the death of Gumbheer Sing, in 1834, his infant son was put on the Guddee by Nur Sing, who declared himself Regent. In 1844, in consequence of the failure of a plot against Nur Sing's life, the Ranee fled from the country, taking her son with her, whereupon Nur Sing ascended the Guddee, and ruled till his death, in 1850.

He was succeeded by his brother Debendro Sing, who was expelled by Chunder Kirtee Sing, son of Gumbheer Sing, who had now become of age. In consequence of repeated attempts to upset the authority of Chunder Kirtee Sing, whereby the peace of the country was disturbed, and British influence endangered, Government made a public avowal of its determination to uphold Chunder Kirtee Sing, and to punish any parties attempting to dispossess him.

The area of Munnipore is 7,584 square miles, and its population is about 75,840. The money revenue is about Rupees 14,250 a year. Munnipore pays no tribute to the British Government.

The relations of the British Government with Munnipore are conducted through a Political Agent. The first appointment was made in 1835.

XLIII.

A TRANSLATION of the CONDITIONS entered into by RAJAH GUMBHEER SING of Munnipore, on the BRITISH GOVERNMENT agreeing to annex to Munnipore the two ranges of Hills situated between the eastern and western bends of the Barak. Dated 18th April 1833.

The Governor-General and Supreme Council of Hindoostan declare as follows:—With regard to the two ranges of Hills, the one called the Kalanaga Range, and the other called the Noon-jai Range, which are situated between the eastern bend of the Barak and the western bend of the Barak, we will give up all claim on the part of the Honorable Company thereunto, and we will make these Hills over in possession to the Rajah, and give him the line of the Jeeree and the western bend of the Barak as a boundary, provided that the Rajah agrees to the whole of what is written in this paper, which is as follows:—

MUNNI-
PORE.
No. XLIII.

1st.—The Rajah will, agreeably to instructions received, without delay, remove his Thanna from Chundrapore, and establish it on the eastern bank of the Jeeree. *

2nd.—The Rajah will in no way obstruct the trade carried on between the two countries by Bengali or Munnipooree merchants. He will not exact heavy duties, and he will make a monopoly of no articles of merchandise whatsoever.

3rd.—The Rajah will in no way prevent the Nagas inhabiting the Kalanaga and Noon-jai Ranges of Hills, from selling or bartering ginger, cotton, pepper, and every other article, the produce of their country, in the Plains of Cachar, at the Banskandee and Oodharbun bazaars, as has been their custom.

4th.—With regard to the road commencing from the eastern bank of the Jeeree and continued viâ Kalanaga and Kowpoom, as far as the Valley of Munnipore—after this road has been finished, the Rajah will keep it in repairs, so as to enable laden bullocks to pass during the cold and dry seasons. Further, at the making of the road, if British officers be sent to examine or superintend the same, the Rajah will agree to everything these officers may suggest.

5th.—With reference to the intercourse already existing between the territories of the British Government and those of the Rajah, if the intercourse be farther extended, it will be well in every respect, and it will be highly advantageous to both the Rajah and his country. In order, therefore, that this may speedily take place, the Rajah, at the requisition of the British Government, will furnish a quota of Nagas to assist at the construction of the road.

6th.—In the event of war with the Burmese, if troops be sent to Munnipore, either to protect that country, or to advance beyond the Ningthee, the Rajah, at the requisition of the British Government, will provide Hill porters to assist in transporting the ammunition and baggage of such troops.

7th.—In the event of anything happening on the Eastern Frontier of the British territories, the Rajah will, when required, assist the British Government with a portion of his troops.

MUNNI-
PORE.
No. XLIV.

8th.—*The Rajah will be answerable for all the ammunition he receives from the British Government, and will, for the information of the British Government, give in every month a statement of expenditure to the British Officer attached to the Levy.

Signed and sealed in my presence.

AGREEMENT regarding Compensation for the Kubo Valley.

Major Grant and Captain Pemberton, under instructions from the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, having made over the Kubo Valley to the Burmese Commissioners deputed from Ava, are authorized to state—1st.—That it is the intention of the Supreme Government to grant a monthly stipend of five hundred Sicca Rupees to the Rajah of Munnipore, to commence from the ninth day of January One Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty-four, the date at which the transfer of Kubo took place, as shown in the Agreement mutually signed by the British and Burmese Commissioners.

* As the connection of the British Government with the Munnipore Levy and the supply of ammunition to the Levy have ceased, this clause is inapplicable to present circumstances.

2nd.—It is to be distinctly understood that should any circumstances hereafter arise by which the portion of territory lately made over to Ava again reverts to Munnipore, the allowance now granted by the British Government will cease from the date of such reversion.

A S S A M.

THE first Treaty with any of the Assam Chiefs was a Commercial Agreement (No. XLV.) made in 1793, with Rajah Súrjy Deo. But Government never ratified or published it, on the ground that the Rajah's government was not sufficiently strong to ensure its observance.

The country subsequently relapsed into anarchy and fell under the Burmese. It was invaded by the British when the first Burmese War broke out. The Burmese, after perpetrating the most unheard-of atrocities, were driven out, and the Province, which was now almost depopulated, was annexed to the British dominions.

In 1833 Upper Assam was granted to Rajah Poorunder Sing, with whom a Treaty (No. XLVI.) was made. The Rajah's Government was mild but weak. He fell deeply into arrears in the payment of his tribute, and declared his inability to meet the engagements by which he had bound himself. The management of the country was therefore resumed by Government.

The principal tribes on the Frontier of Upper Assam are the Muttocks, the Khampteas, and the Singphoos.

The Bur Senaputtee or Chief of the Muttocks entered into an Engagement (No. XLVII.) in May 1826, whereby he acknowledged the supremacy of Government, and bound himself to supply 300 soldiers in time of war. The management of the country was left in his own hands, except as regards capital offences. In January 1835 the obligation to supply troops was commuted to a money payment of Rupees 1,800 a year (No. XLVIII.)

On the death of the Bur Senaputtee, in November 1839, as his successor refused the terms offered him, the management of the country was assumed by the British Government, and Pensions were given to the members of the family.

In 1826 arrangements similar to those made with the Muttocks were made with the Khamptee Chief of Suddeya (No. XLIX.) In January 1839 the Khampteas treacherously attacked the station of Suddeya, and though eventually broken up and dispersed, this was not effected until many lives were lost, and among others that of Colonel ASSAM.

White, the Political Agent. Some of the Khampteas surrendered No. XLV.
on conditions in 1843 (No. L.)

Agreements were also made in May 1836 with the Singphoos (No. LI.) These tribes were implicated in the Khamptee rising in 1839, but they were allowed to surrender under conditions: no written Agreement, however, was again taken from them. Many of the Singphoo clans have become extinct, and the main body have left Assam for Hookong, in Upper Burmah.

No. XLV.

TRANSLATION of a new system of COMMERCE adopted by the MAHARAJAH SURGY DEO, Assam, 28th February 1793.

The Maharajah Surgy Deo, highly sensible of the benefit he has experienced from the aid which has been afforded to him by the English Government, and desirous not only of cementing the harmony and friendship which subsists between him and that power, but also of extending the beneficial effects thereof, in general, to the subjects of Bengal and Assam, has, at the recommendation of Captain Welch, the representative at his Court of the said English Government, agreed to abolish the injudicious system of Commerce which has heretofore been pursued, and to adopt in its stead the following plan, liable, however, to such alterations and amendments as occasions may require, for the mutual benefit and comfort of the subjects of both countries.

ARTICLE 1.

That there shall henceforth be a reciprocal and entire liberty of Commerce between the subjects of Bengal and those of Assam, for all and singular goods and merchandizes, on the conditions and in such manner as is settled in the following rules.

ASSAM.

ARTICLE 2.

No. XLV.

That to facilitate this free intercourse between the subjects of both nations, those of Bengal, in fulfilling the conditions hereafter prescribed, be permitted to proceed with their boats loaded with merchandizes into Assam, and to expose their goods for sale, at any place or in any manner may best suit their purposes, without being subject to any other duties than are established by these Articles.

ARTICLE 3.

That a regular Impost be levied on all goods or merchandizes, whether of Export or Import, and that these duties be fixed as follows :—

Imports.

1st.—That the Salt of Bengal be subject to an Impost of 10 per cent. on the supposed prime cost, reckoning that invariably at 400 Rupees per 100 maunds of 84 sicca weight to the seer.

2nd.—That the Broad Cloths of Europe, the Cotton Cloths of Bengal, Carpets, Copper, Lead, Tin, Tutanag, Pearls, Hardware, Jewellery, Spices, and the various other Goods imported into Assam, pay an equal Impost of 10 per cent. on the Invoice price.

3rd.—That Warlike Implements and Military Stores be considered contraband and liable to confiscation, excepting the supplies of these articles which may be required for the Company's troops stationed in Assam, which, and every other matter of convenience for the said troops, whether of clothing or provisions, are in all cases to be exempt from duties.

Exports.

1st.—That the Duties to be levied on all articles of Export (except in such cases as are hereafter mentioned,) be invariably 10 per cent., reckoning agreeable to the rates hereby annexed to each, viz. :—

			Rs.	As.	P.
Mooga	Dohtees,	per md. of 84 sa. wt. to the seer	95	0	0
Mooga	Thread,	ditto ditto	...	70	0 0
Pepper,	ditto	ditto	...	0	0 0
Elephants'	Teeth,	ditto ditto	...	50	0 0

Cutna Lac, per md. of 84 sa. wt. to the seer	...	4	0	0	ASSAM.
Chuprah and Jury Lal, ditto	ditto	...	3	8	No. XLV.
Munjeet,	ditto	ditto	...	4	0	0

2nd.—That all articles of Export not herein specified (with the exception of the following), and for which no certain calculation can be made, be subject to an equal Impost, in such instances always to be paid in kind; and with respect to these articles which have been particularized, that the Duties be received either in money or kind, as may be most convenient to the Merchant: but as it may happen that a temporary scarcity of grain may occur either in Bengal or Assam, to provide against which, Rice and every description of Grain to be exempt from Duties.

ARTICLE 4.

That any person or persons detected in attempting to defraud the Surgi Deo of the Duties hereby established, shall be liable to a confiscation of his, or their property, and for ever after debarred the privilege of the trade.

ARTICLE 5.

That for the purpose of collecting the said Duties, Agents be appointed, and Custom Houses established for the present, one at the Candahar Chokey and one at Gowhatty.

ARTICLE 6.

That it be the business of the Agents to be stationed at the Candahar Chokey, to collect the Duties on all Imports, and on all Exports, the produce of the country to the westward of Gowhatty, for which they are to be held responsible. They are to examine all boats passing up and down the river, and, after having settled with the proprietor for the amount of the Duties, they are to grant him a passport, specifying the number and quantity of each article, a copy of which they are to forward, without delay, to the Agents at Gowhatty, whither, or further, if it be necessary, the Merchant may proceed under sanction of the said pass.

ASSAM.
No. XLV.

ARTICLE 7.

That it be the business of the Agents stationed at Gowhatty to collect the Duties on all Exports the produce of the country parallel to it, north and south, and also on all Exports the produce of the country to the eastward, as far as Nowgong, for which in like manner they are to be held responsible. They are to examine all boats passing down the river, and to grant passports to the proprietors, copies of which to be forwarded to the Agents at the Candahar Chokey, who are to re-examine the cargo, lest, on the way between Gowhatty and their station, the merchant may have taken goods on board which could not be specified in the pass granted at that place.

ARTICLE 8.

That as an incitement to the Agents to be industrious in the discharge of their duty, a recompense be made to them, bearing a proportion to the amount of the collections, and that for the present it be fixed at 12 per cent. on the said collections, which is calculated to defray all incidental expenses.

ARTICLE 9.

That the said Agents be required to be sureties for each other, and that the whole be bound by engagements to the Surgj Deo, not only for the purity of their conduct in the collections, but also that they abstain from having any concern, either directly or indirectly, in trade.

ARTICLE 10.

That a copy of their accounts be produced on or before the 10th of every month, and that the payment of the collections be made into the hands of any person the Surgj Deo may appoint to receive it at the expiration of every quarter.

ARTICLE 11.

That the standard weight hereafter, both for Exports and Imports, be 40 seers to the maund, and 84 sicca weight to the seer.

ARTICLE 12.

ASSAM.
No. XLV.

That as much political inconvenience might arise to both Governments from granting a general license to the subjects of Bengal to settle in Assam, no European merchant, or adventurer of any description, be allowed to fix their residence in Assam without having previously obtained the permission of the English Government and that of the Surgy Deo.

ARTICLE 13.

That as Captain Welsh, the representative of the said English Government, in consideration of the Surgy Deo having removed the prohibitory restrictions which have hitherto existed, to the detriment of a free intercourse, has signified his intention of bringing to punishment all persons from Bengal offending against the established laws of Assam, or infringing these Articles, so the Surgy Deo, on his part, declares he will punish all abuses in his subjects, tending to obstruct or discourage the reciprocal intercourse this system is designed to promote.

ARTICLE 14.

That copies of these Articles be affixed at every public place throughout Assam, that none may plead ignorance, and that Captain Welsh be requested to send one officially to his Government.

Captain.

TREATY and AGREEMENT concluded between MR. THOMAS CAMPBELL ROBERTSON, Agent to the Governor-General on the North-East Frontier, on the part of the HONORABLE COMPANY and RAJAH POORUNDER SING, now residing at Gowhatty, in Assam.

ARTICLE 1.

The Company give over to Rajah Poorunder Sing the portion of Assam lying on the southern bank of the Burrumpooter to the eastward of the Dhunsiree River, and on the northern bank to the eastward of a nullah immediately east of Bishenath.

ARTICLE 2.

The Rajah Poorunder Sing agrees to pay an annual tribute of 50,000 Rupees of Rajah Mohree coinage to the Honorable Company.

ARTICLE 3.

The Rajah Poorunder Sing binds himself, in the administration of justice in the country now made over to him, to abstain from the practices of the former Rajahs of Assam, as to cutting off ears and noses, extracting eyes or otherwise mutilating or torturing, and that he will not inflict cruel punishment for slight faults, but generally assimilate the administration of justice in his territory to that which prevails in the dominions of the Honorable Company. He further binds himself not to permit the immolation of women by suttees.

ARTICLE 4.

The Rajah Poorunder Sing binds himself to assist the passage of the Troops of the British Government through his territory, furnishing supplies and carriage on receiving payment for the same.

ARTICLE 5.

Whether at Jorhath or elsewhere, wheresoever a spot may be required for the permanent cantonment of the troops of the British Government, the Rajah agrees that, within the limits assigned to such cantonment he shall exercise no power whatever ; all matters connected with such cantonment to be decided on by the Officer of the British Government. ASSAM.

No. XLVI.

ARTICLE 6.

In the event of a detachment being stationed at Suddeya or elsewhere, the Rajah Poorunder Sing binds himself to render it all the assistance that it shall require in regard to provisions and carriage.

ARTICLE 7.

The Rajah binds himself ever to listen with attention to the advice of the Political Agent to be stationed in Upper Assam, or to that of the Agent to the Governor-General, with a view to the conduct of affairs in the country made over to him in conformity with the stipulation of this Agreement.

ARTICLE 8.

The Rajah binds himself not to carry on any correspondence by letter or otherwise, or to enter into any Contract or Agreement with the Rulers of any Foreign States. In all cases of necessity he will consult with the Political Agent or Agent to the Governor-General, by whom the necessary communication will be made.

ARTICLE 9.

The Rajah binds himself to surrender, on demand from the Agent to the Governor-General or Political Agent, any fugitive from justice who may take refuge in his territory, and always to apply to those Officers for the apprehension of any individuals who may fly from his territory into that of the Honorable Company, or of any other State.

ARTICLE 10.

It is distinctly understood that this Treaty invests Rajah Poorunder Sing with no power over the Moarmaria Country of the Bur Sena-puttee.

ARTICLE 11.

It being notorious that the quantity of opium produced in Assam is the cause of many miseries to the inhabitants, the Rajah binds

ASSAM. himself, that, whatever measures may be determined on with a view to
^{No.}
XLVII. checking this source of mischief in the territory of the Honorable Company, corresponding measures shall be adopted in the territory made over to him.

In the event of the Rajah's continuing faithful to the articles of this Treaty, the British Government engages to protect him from the aggressions of any foreign foe, but if, which God forbid, he should in any way depart from a faithful adherence to the same, and be guilty of oppressing the people of the country entrusted to his charge, then the right is reserved to the Government of the Honorable Company, either to transfer the said country to another ruler, or take it into its own immediate occupation.

TRANSLATION of an AGREEMENT entered into by MATEE BUR BUR SENAPUTTER, on the 23rd January 1835, in the presence of the POLITICAL AGENT, Upper Assam.

ARTICLE 1.

I agree to relinquish my claim to the village of Suckhowah, which has been the cause of dispute between the Suddeya Khawah Gohain and myself; further, I agree that the following shall be recognized as the territorial boundaries of my district. On the north the Berhampooter, on the west the Boormee Dehing River, separating my territory from that of Rajah Poorunder Sing, to the east the Dibroo River and the Danquree Nullah, which falls into it. From the rise of the nullah a boundary line will be formed to connect it with the Boore Dehing River; for this purpose Lieutenant Charlton can depute one person and I will depute another.

The lands lying between the Dhul Jan and Gooroo Jan Nullahs, which fall into the Danquree Nullah, to be considered under my jurisdiction, and the persons deputed as above-mentioned can connect them by definite marks, so as to form a boundary line. These are the territorial boundaries of the country under my jurisdiction, and have no reference to the pecuniary questions now pending between me and the British Government.

ARTICLE 2.

I cannot agree to the demand which the British Government has made me to contribute towards the expenses of the State in an increased proportion, quinquennially, or by paying a tribute of 10,000 Rupees per annum, as I engaged to do under the Assam Government. But if the British Government requires me no longer to furnish a Military Contingent of 300 men, I agree to pay in their stead the usual Capitation Tax for these 300 men, which, at the rate of 6 Rupees per head, will amount to 1,800 Rupees per annum. I further agree to restore to the British Government the arms of this force, if required. I likewise will adhere to the engagement I formed with Captain Neufville, to pay 551 Rupees per annum, on account of Pykes who absconded from Upper Assam, whilst that Province was under his charge in 1829; and further I agree to pay to those who have absconded from Rajah

Poorunder Sing's territory within the last two years. I will cause ^{ASSAM.} them to be counted, but if suspicion is entertained that a false enumeration^{No. XLIX} will be given in, I agree that the British Government may nominate an Officer to take a new census.*

We, late inhabitants of Derack and Suddeya, were engaged in the attack upon the latter place, and fled to the Mishmee Country; we have offered our submission to return back, if our former offences were overlooked, and now we have returned agreeably to the orders of the Political Agent, with our followers, viz. Chowdung, Chawling, Long Fong, Poychoy, Chalan, Sham, Poom, Metong, and Chowlah, but the whole of the Khampteas are unable to return for the present, owing to their crops being uncut. However, they hereby promise to come in with all their families after their crops have been gathered, or within a month and half from this date.

1st.—We shall be allowed a sufficient quantity of lands for our support, either at Choonpoora or at Noa Dehing, for a term of five years rent-free, and after the expiration of that period we agree to pay a moderate rent for the lands we may cultivate, or pay a house tax, as Government may choose to authorize. Any orders that may be issued respecting the Abkarry shall be duly attended to.

2nd.—We engage also to endeavor to prevent or intercept any inroads of the Singphos or Mishmees on the Suddeya ryots, and shall obey all orders of the Civil or Political Authorities on the frontier.

3rd.—We further engage that we shall desist from trafficking in slaves according to the regulations of Government generally.

4th.—All petty crimes and offences occurring amongst ourselves shall be settled by the Chiefs of the villages, but in all heinous offences, such as robbery, murder, dacoity, wounding, and counterfeiting the coin, we promise to make over the offenders to the Political Agent, with their respective witnesses for trial; and disputes between the heads of the different villages or clans shall also be referred to the same authority.*

5th.—At the expiration of ten years the whole of our engagements will be subject to a revision and alteration, as it may seem best to His Lordship to determine on.

6th.—Should we or any of the Khampteas in any way depart from the faithful adherence of the above Agreement, and commit any acts of

B O O T A N.

THE temporal supremacy in Bootan is vested in an Officer called the Deb Rajah, and the spiritual supremacy in another Officer called the Dhurm Rajah.

The first intercourse of the British Government with Bootan commenced with the expedition sent in 1772 for the relief of the Rajah of Cooch Behar. The Booteahs, driven out of Cooch Behar, and pursued into the Hills, threw themselves on the protection of Thibet. The Teshoo Lama, then Regent of Thibet, and guardian of the Grand Lama of Lassa, addressed the Government of India on their behalf. The application was favorably received, and a Treaty of Peace (No. LII.) was concluded on 25th April 1774.

From this time, with the exception of two unsuccessful commercial missions in 1774 and 1783, there was little intercourse with Bootan, until our occupation of Assam, which connected the British and Bootan frontiers. Since then there has been a continued series of aggressions by the Booteahs on British Territory, followed by reprisals on the part of the British Government, and the occupation of the Dooars or passes which lie at the foot of the Booteah Hills.

Between the Teesta, which forms the eastern boundary of Sikkim and the Monas, there are eleven* of these Dooars, some bordering on British territory and some on the State of Cooch Behar.

Little is known regarding the first six of these. They are governed by Soubahs appointed by the Sunnud of the Deb Rajah. Bijnee and Sidlee are governed by Rajahs, who pay tribute to Bootan, and the Bijnee Rajah holds two Pergunnahs in British territory for which he pays revenue to Government.

On the northern frontier of Kamroop there are five† Dooars, and on the north of Durrung two.

Under the Assam Government the Kamroop Dooars had entirely fallen under the Bootan authorities, and the Bootan supremacy continued after the acquisition of Assam by the British Government. But the Durrung Dooars BOOTAN. were held alternately four months by the British Government, and No. LII.

 eight months by the Booteahs each year.

In 1841, in consequence of renewed aggressions and the increasing disorganization of the country, the whole of these Dooars were annexed to the British possessions, and a sum of Rupees 10,000 was allotted, to be annually paid to the Chiefs as compensation, which sum was considered to be equal to one-third of the revenue of the Kamroop and Durrung Dooars. No written Agreement was made regarding this arrangement.

A similar arrangement, under a written Engagement (No. LIII.), was made in 1844 with the Bootecahs who rule over Towang, and are dependant on Thibet. A sum of Rupees 5,000 a year is paid for the resumption of the Koreapara Dooar as one-third of its net revenue.

To the east of the Towang country are the independent clans of the Rooprye and Shirgaiah Booteahs, whose custom it was to enter the Char Dooar and Now Dooar, which have been held by the British Government since the occupation of Assam, and to levy black mail. But the black mail was eventually commuted to an annual payment of money. The Rooprye and Shergaiah Booteahs receive, under Agreement (No. LIV.), Rupees 2,526-7 a year. Similar payments are made to the Thebengiah Booteahs, but they do not appear to have subscribed any Engagement.

Further to the east are the wild tribes of Akas, with whom similar Agreements (Nos. LV. and LVI.) have been made. The Dufflas, Meris and Bor Abors also receive money payments in lieu of black mail, but no Engagements appear to have been taken from them.

1st.—That the Honorable Company, wholly from consideration for the distress to which the Bootans represented themselves to be reduced,

BOOTAN. and from the desire of living in peace with their neighbors, will
No. LII. relinquish all the lands which belonged to the Deb Rajah before the commencement of the war with the Rajah of Cooch Behar, namely, to the eastward, the lands of Chitchacotta and Pangola-haut, and to the westward, the lands of Kyrunttee, Marragaut, and Luckypoor.

2nd.—That for the possession of the Chitchacotta Province, the Deb Rajah shall pay an annual tribute of five Tangun Horses to the Honorable Company, which was the acknowledgment paid to the Behar Rajah.

3rd.—That the Deb Rajah shall deliver up Drijindenarain, Rajah of Cooch Behar, together with his brother the Dewan Deo, who is confined with him.

4th.—That the Bootans, being merchants, shall have the same privilege of trade as formerly, without the payment of duties, and their caravan shall be allowed to go to Rungpore annually.

5th.—That the Deb Rajah shall never cause incursions to be made into the country, nor in any respect whatever molest the ryots that have come under the Honorable Company's subjection.

6th.—That if any ryot or inhabitant whatever shall desert from the Honorable Company's territories, the Deb Rajah shall cause him to be delivered up immediately upon application being made for him.

7th.—That in case the Bootans, or any one under the government of the Deb Rajah, shall have any demands upon, or disputes with, any inhabitant of these or any part of the Company's Territories, they shall prosecute them only by an application to the Magistrate, who shall reside here for the administration of justice.

8th.—That whereas, the Sunneeyasies are considered by the English as an enemy, the Deb Rajah shall not allow any body of them to take shelter in any part of the districts now given up, nor permit them to enter the Honorable Company's territories, or through any part of his, and if the Bootans shall not of themselves be able to drive them out, they shall give information to the Resident, on the part of the English, in Cooch Behar, and they shall not consider the English troops pursuing the Sunneeyasies into those districts any breach of this Treaty.

9th.—That in case the Honorable Company shall have occasion for cutting timber from any part of the woods under the Hills, they shall do it duty free, and the people they send shall be protected.

10th.—That there shall be a mutual release of prisoners.

BEHAR.
No. LVII.

THE connection of the British Government with Cooch Behar commenced in 1772, when the Rajah, then a minor and a prisoner in the hands of the Booteahs, offered, through his Minister the Nazir Deo,* to pay half his revenue to the Company, if they would assist him in expelling the Booteahs from his country.

The Rajah's proposals were agreed to. The Booteahs were expelled, and a Treaty (No. LVII.) was concluded, by which the Rajah agreed to acknowledge subjection to the British Government, allow Cooch Behar to be annexed to Bengal, defray the expenses of the operations against the Booteahs, and make over half of his annual revenues.

Rajah Durrinder Narain died in 1780, and was succeeded by his own father Rajah Dhujinder Narain, who had been carried off by the Booteahs, but who had been released under the Treaty with Bootan of 25th April 1774. Rajah Dhujinder died in 1783, and was succeeded by his infant son Hurindur Narain, who, in 1839, was succeeded by his son Sibinder Narain. He was succeeded in 1847 by his nephew and adopted son Nurinder Narain, the present Rajah.

Our relations with Cooch Behar are nearly the same as in 1772. During the minority of Hurindur Narain there was a Resident at Cooch Behar, and on several occasions Commissioners have been appointed to reform the administration. But there has been no Resident Commissioner since 1824, and the management of affairs is left to the sole conduct of the Rajah and his officers.

state of the country, owing to its being harassed by the neighboring independent Rajahs, who are in league to depose him, the Honorable the President and Council, from a love of justice and desire of assisting the distressed, have agreed to send a force, consisting of four Companies of Sepoys and a field piece, for the protection of the said Rajah and his country against his enemies, and the following conditions are mutually agreed on :—

1st.—That the said Rajah will immediately pay into the hands of the Collector of Rungpoor 50,000 Rupees, to defray the expenses of the force sent to assist him.

2nd.—That if more than 50,000 Rupees are expended, the Rajah will make it good to the Honorable the English East India Company, but in case any part of it remains unexpended that it be delivered back.

3rd.—That the Rajah will acknowledge subjection to the English East India Company upon his country being cleared of his enemies, and will allow the Cooch Behar country to be annexed to the Province of Bengal.

4th.—That the Rajah further agrees to make over to the English East India Company one-half of the annual revenues of Cooch Behar for ever.

5th.—That the other moiety shall remain to the Rajah and his heirs for ever, provided he is firm in his allegiance to the Honorable United East India Company.

6th.—That in order to ascertain the value of the Cooch Behar Country, the Rajah will deliver a fair hustabood of his district into the hands of such person as the Honorable the President and Council of Calcutta shall think proper to depute for that purpose, upon which valuation the annual malguzary, which the Rajah is to pay, shall be established.

7th.—That the amount of the malguzary, settled by such person as the Honorable the East India Company shall depute, shall be perpetual.

8th.—That the Honorable English East India Company shall always assist the said Rajah with a force when he has occasion for it for the defence of the country, the Rajah bearing the expense.

9th.—That this Treaty shall remain in force for the space of two years, or till such time as advices may be received from the Court of Directors, empowering the President and Council to ratify the same for ever. COOCH

This Treaty, signed, sealed, and concluded by the Honorable the President and Council at Fort William, the fifth day of April 1773, on the one part, and by Durrinder Narain, Rajah of Cooch Behar, at Behyar Fort, the 6th Maug 1179 Bengal style, on the other part.

SIKKIM.

From a Report by Dr. A. Campbell, Superintendent of Darjeeling.

SIKKIM, known as “Dinjong” by the inhabitants and in all the neighboring Countries, is bounded on the north by Thibet, on the east by Bootan, on the west by Nepal, and on the south by the Rumnam and great Rungeet Rivers, which divide it from the Darjeeling Hill Territory. The area is about 1,550 square miles, and the population probably not more than five to the square mile, or 7,000, in the following proportion :—

Lepchas	3,000
Booteahs	2,000
Limboos	2,000

There is no money revenue, and the contributions in kind from agricultural produce and transit duties on trade would, if converted into money, probably not exceed Rupees 7,000 per annum. The country is, to a great extent, covered with forest and thick underwood, and is most difficult to travel in. The Rajah's residence is at “Tumloong” from November till May. For the remainder of the year he lives at Choombi, in the Thibet Territory, to avoid the heavier rains of Sikkim. He is tributary to China, through the vice-royalty at Lhassa, and of late years, since his loss of territory through the misconduct of his officers, he has received an annual allowance from Lhassa of Rupees 1,000 to 2,000.

Our relations with Sikkim commenced at the outbreak of the war with Nepal in 1814-15. The Goorkhas commenced inroads in Sikkim as early as 1780, and when the encroachments on British Territory issued in war, they had overrun Sikkim as far eastward as the Teesta River, including the Morung or the Terai at the foot of the Hills. It was the object of the British Government to give every possible assistance to the Sikkim Rajah to expel the Goorkhas, and on the conclusion of the Nipal war the country between the Mechi and the Teesta, which had been wrested by us from the Nepalese, was made over by Treaty (No. LVIII.) to the Rajah of Sikkim. The main object of this Treaty was to shut out the Nepalese from the means of carrying out any views of aggrandizement to the eastward. SIKKIM.

From 1817 to 1825 there does not appear to have been any business transactions between the Sikkim Rajah and the British Government. About this year, however, the minister of the Rajah Buljeet, a Lepcha Chief, was murdered, when all his adherents of the same tribe, about 800, under the guidance of Eklathye Kajee, fled from Sikkim and took refuge in Nepal. Shortly after this disputes arose on the Sikkim and Nepal boundary, which came under the cognizance of the Governor-General's Agent for the North-East Frontier and the Resident in Nepal. In 1828 Captain Lloyd was deputed to the Sikkim Frontier in connection with these disputes. He penetrated the Hills in company with Mr. J. W. Grant, the Commercial Resident at Malda, as far as Rinchingpoong. These gentlemen, attracted by the position of Darjeeling, brought it to the notice of the Governor-General, and it was resolved by Government to open negotiations with the Rajah of Sikkim on the first convenient occasion for the cession of Darjeeling to the British Government in return for an equivalent in lands or money. This opportunity occurred in 1834-35, when the Lepcha refugees in Nepal made an inroad into the Sikkim Terai, and Colonel Lloyd was deputed to enquire into the causes of the disturbance. The refugees were obliged to return to Nepal, and the negotiation ended in the unconditional cession, by the Rajah, of the Darjeeling tract under a Deed of Grant (No. LIX.), dated February 1835.

In 1841 the Government granted an allowance of Rupees 3,000 per annum to the Rajah as compensation for the cession of Darjeeling, and a further sum of Rupees 3,000 in 1846—in all Rupees 6,000 per annum.

The settlement of Darjeeling advanced rapidly, its population having risen from not more than 100 souls in 1839 to about 10,000 in 1849, chiefly by immigration from the neighboring States of Nepal, Sikkim, and Bootan, in all of which slavery is prevalent. There was free trade in labor and all other commodities, with forest land enough for all comers to settle in, and every encouragement given to the new arrivals. The increased importance of Darjeeling, under free institutions, was a source of early and constant jealousy and annoyance to the Dewan of the Rajah, who was himself the monopolist of all SIKKIM. trade in Sikkim, and it was shared in by the Lamas and other principal people in the country, who lost their rights over slaves settling as British subjects in our territory. The plan pursued was through reports and secret emissaries to frighten our new subjects, by declaring that they should be delivered up as escaped slaves to their former masters, and by discouraging the resort in every way of the Sikkim people to Darjeeling, added to which some British subjects were occasionally kidnapped to be sold into slavery, and there were frequent denials of aid in capturing and surrendering criminals. There has always been an arrangement for a mutual exchange of slaves between Sikkim and Bootan, and Dr. Campbell, the Superintendent of Darjeeling, was constantly importuned by the Sikkim Rajah and his Dewan to get the British Government to follow a similar course with Sikkim, which was of necessity steadily refused.

In 1849, Dr. Hooker and Dr. Campbell, while travelling in Sikkim, with permission of Government and the Rajah, were suddenly seized and made prisoners. The object was to force Dr. Campbell to relinquish claims for the surrender of criminals; to make him, while in durance, agree to the dictation of the Dewan regarding the giving up of escaped slaves; and to detain him until these enforced conditions should be sanctioned by Government. Foiled by the declaration that whatever concessions might be extorted then would not be confirmed by Government, and intimidated by the declaration of the Governor-General that the Rajah's head should answer for it if a hair of the head of Dr. Campbell or Dr. Hooker were hurt, the Sikkimese eventually released the prisoners on 24th December 1849.

In February 1850 an avenging Force crossed the great Rungeet into Sikkim. The expedition resulted in the stoppage of the grant of Rupees 6,000 per annum to the Rajah, the annexation of the Sikkim Terai, and the portion of the Sikkim Hills bounded by the Rummam River on the north, the great Rungeet and the Teesta on the east, and by the Nepal Frontier on the west.

This new Territory was put under the management of the Superintendent of Darjeeling, and, through the rapid increase of population and suitability for tea, is becoming very valuable. The Dewan was ostensibly dismissed from office, and for some years matters proceeded smoothly and well between Sikkim and our Government. But this man worked his way into power again through his wife, an illegitimate SIKKIM. daughter of the Rajah's, and the kidnapping of our subjects was No. LVIII. resumed without the possibility of obtaining redress.

In April and May 1860 two aggravated cases of kidnapping were reported to Government. All ordinary efforts to procure restitution of our subjects and the surrender of the offenders, who were adherents of the Dewan, having failed, the Governor-General in Council resolved to occupy the territory of the Rajah lying to the north of the Rumnam River and to the west of the great Rungeet, and to retain it until our subjects were restored, the offenders given up, and security obtained against a recurrence of similar offences. On the 1st November 1860 the Superintendent of Darjeeling crossed the Rumnam with a small force, and advanced as far as Rinchingpoong. But he was eventually forced to fall back on Darjeeling. A stronger force was then despatched under Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Gawler, and accompanied by the Hon'ble Ashley Eden as Envoy and Special Commissioner. The force advanced to the Teesta, when the Sikkimites acceded to the terms dictated by the Governor-General, and a new Treaty (No. LX.) consisting of twenty-three articles, was concluded by the Envoy with the Rajah in person, on the 28th of March 1861.

DRAFT of a SUNNUD for the RAJAH OF SIKKIM, dated 7th April 1817.

No.
LVIII.

The Honorable East India Company, in consideration of the services performed by the Hill tribes under the control of the Rajah of Sikkim, and of the attachment shown by him to the interest of the British Government, grants to the Sikkimputtee Rajah, his heirs and successors, all that portion of low land situated eastward of the Meitchie River, and westward of the Maha Nuddee, formerly possessed by the Rajah of Nepaul, but ceded to the Honorable East India Company by the Treaty of Segoulee, to be held by the Sikkimputtee Rajah as a feudatory, or as acknowledging the supremacy of the British Government over the said lands, subject to the following conditions :—

The British Laws and Regulations will not be introduced into the territories in question, but the Sikkimputtee Rajah is authorized to make such laws and regulations for their internal government, as are suited to the habits and customs of the inhabitants, or that may be in force in his other dominions.

The Articles or Provisions of the Treaty signed at Titalya, on the 10th February 1817, and ratified by His Excellency the Right Honorable the Governor-General in Council, on the 15th March following, are to be in force with regard to the lands hereby assigned to the Sikkimputtee Rajah, as far as they are applicable to the circumstances of those lands.

It will be especially incumbent on the Sikkimputtee Rajah and his officers to surrender, on application from the officers of the Honorable Company, all persons charged with criminal offences, and all public defaulters who may take refuge in the lands now assigned to him, and to allow the police officers of the British Government to pursue into those lands and apprehend all such persons.

In consideration of the distance of the Sikkimputtee Rajah's residence from the Company's Provinces, such orders as the Governor-General in Council may, upon any sudden emergency, find it necessary to transmit to the local authorities in the lands now assigned, for the security or protection of those lands, are to be immediately obeyed and carried into execution in the same manner as if coming from the Sikkimputtee Rajah.

In order to prevent all disputes with regard to the boundaries of the low lands granted to the Sikkimputtee Rajah, they will be surveyed by a British Officer, and their limits accurately laid down and defined.

The Governor-General having expressed his desire for the possession of the Hill of Darjeeling, on account of its cool climate, for the purpose of enabling the servants of his Government, suffering from sickness, to avail themselves of its advantages, I, the Sikkimputtee Rajah, out of friendship to the said Governor-General, hereby present Darjeeling to the East India Company, that is, all the land south of the Great Runjeet River, east of the Balasur, Kahail, and little Runjeet Rivers, and west of the Rungno and Mahanuddi Rivers.

TREATY, COVENANT, or AGREEMENT entered into by the HONORABLE ASHLEY EDEN, Envoy and Special Commissioner on the part of the BRITISH GOVERNMENT, in virtue of full powers vested in him by the RIGHT HONORABLE CHARLES EARL CANNING, Governor-General in Council, and by His HIGHNESS SEKEONG KUZOO, Maja Rajah of Sikkim, on his own part.

Whereas the continued depredations and misconduct of the officers and subjects of the Maha Rajah of Sikkim, and the neglect of the Maha Rajah to afford satisfaction for the misdeeds of his people, have resulted in an interruption, for many years past, of the harmony which previously existed between the British Government and the Government of Sikkim, and have led ultimately to the invasion and conquest

SIKKIM. of Sikkim by a British Force ; and whereas the Maha Rajah of Sikkim
No. LX. has now expressed his sincere regret for the misconduct of his servants and subjects, his determination to do all in his power to obviate future misunderstanding, and his desire to be again admitted into friendship and alliance with the British Government, it is hereby agreed as follows :—

I.

All previous Treaties made between the British Government and the Sikkim Government are hereby formally cancelled.

II.

The whole of the Sikkim Territory now in the occupation of British Forces is restored to the Maha Rajah of Sikkim, and there shall henceforth be peace and amity between the two States.

III.

The Maha Rajah of Sikkim undertakes, so far as is within his power, to restore, within one month from the date of signing this Treaty, all public property which was abandoned by the detachment of British Troops at Rinchinpoong.

IV.

In indemnification of the expenses incurred in 1860 by the British Government in occupying a portion of the territory of Sikkim as a means of enforcing just claims which had been evaded by the Government of Sikkim, and as compensation to the British subjects who were pillaged and kidnapped by subjects of Sikkim, the Sikkim Government agrees to pay to the British authorities at Darjeeling the sum of 7,000 (seven thousand) Rupees in the following instalments, that is to say :—

May 1st, 1861 ...	...	...	1,000
Nov. 1st, 1861 ...	...	...	3,000
May 1st, 1862 ...	...	...	3,000

As security for the due payment of this amount, it is further agreed that, in the event of any of these instalments not being duly paid on the date appointed, the Government of Sikkim shall make over to the British Government that portion of its territory bounded on the south by the River Rumnam, on the east by the Great Runjeet River, on the north by a line from the Great Runjeet to the Singaleelah Range, including the monasteries of Tassiding, Pemonchi, and Changacheling, and on the west by the Singaleelah Mountain Range, and the British Government shall retain possession of this territory and collect the revenue thereof, until the full amount, with all expenses of occupation and collection, and interest at 6 per cent. per annum, are realized.

SIKKIM.
No. LX.

V.

The Government of Sikkim engages that its subjects shall never again commit depredations on British territory, or kidnap or otherwise molest British subjects. In the event of any such depredation or kidnapping taking place, the Government of Sikkim undertakes to deliver up all persons engaged in such malpractice, as well as the Sirdars or other Chiefs conniving at or benefiting thereby.

VI.

The Government of Sikkim will at all times seize and deliver up any criminals, defaulters, or other delinquents who may have taken refuge within its territory on demand being duly made in writing by the British Government, through their accredited agents. Should any delay occur in complying with such demand, the Police of the British Government may follow the person whose surrender has been demanded into any part of the Sikkim territory, and shall, on showing a warrant, duly signed by the British Agent, receive every assistance and protection in the prosecution of their object from the Sikkim officers.

VII.

Inasmuch as the late misunderstandings between the two Governments have been mainly fomented by the acts of the ex-Dewan Namguay, the Government of Sikkim engages that neither the said Namguay, nor any of his blood relations, shall ever again be allowed to set foot in Sikkim, or to take part in the councils of, or hold any office under, the Rajah or any of the Rajah's family at Choombi.

SIKKIM.
No. LX.

VIII.

The Government of Sikkim from this date abolishes all restrictions on travellers and monopolies in trade between the British territories and Sikkim. There shall henceforth be a free reciprocal intercourse, and full liberty of commerce between the subjects of both countries; it shall be lawful for British subjects to go into any part of Sikkim for the purpose of travel or trade, and the subjects of all countries shall be permitted to reside in and pass through Sikkim, and to expose their goods for sale at any place and in any manner that may best suit their purpose, without any interference whatever, except as is hereinafter provided.

IX.

The Government of Sikkim engages to afford protection to all travellers, merchants, or traders of all countries, whether residing in, trading in, or passing through Sikkim. If any merchant, traveller, or trader, being a European British subject, shall commit any offence contrary to the laws of Sikkim, such person shall be punished by the representative of the British Government resident at Darjeeling, and the Sikkim Government will at once deliver such offender over to the British authorities for this purpose, and will, on no account, detain such offender in Sikkim on any pretext or pretence whatever. All other British subjects residing in the country to be liable to the laws of Sikkim; but such persons shall, on no account, be punished with loss of limb, or maiming, or torture, and every case of punishment of a British subject shall be at once reported to Darjeeling.

X.

No duties or fees of any sort shall be demanded by the Sikkim Government of any person or persons on account of goods exported into the British territories from Sikkim, or imported into Sikkim from the British territories.

XI.

On all goods passing into or out of Thibet, Bootan, or Nepal, the Government of Sikkim may levy a duty of customs according to such a scale as may, from time to time, be determined and published, without reference to the destination of the goods, provided, however, that such duty shall, on no account, exceed 5 per cent. on the value of the goods at the time and place of the levy of duty. On the payment of the duty aforesaid a pass shall be given, exempting such goods from liability to further payment on any account whatever. SIKKIM.

No. LX.

XII.

With the view to protect the Government of Sikkim from fraud on account of undervaluation for assessment of duty, it is agreed that the custom officers shall have the option of taking over for the Government any goods at the value affixed on them by the owner.

XIII.

In the event of the British Government desiring to open out a road through Sikkim, with the view of encouraging trade, the Sikkim Government will raise no objection thereto, and will afford every protection and aid to the party engaged in the work. If a road is constructed, the Government of Sikkim undertakes to keep it in repair, and to erect and maintain suitable traveller's rest-houses throughout its route.

XIV.

If the British Government desires to make either a topographical or geological survey of Sikkim, the Sikkim Government will raise no objection to this being done, and will afford protection and assistance to the Officers employed in this duty.

XV.

Inasmuch as many of the late misunderstandings have had their foundation in the custom which exists in Sikkim of dealing in slaves, the Government of Sikkim binds itself, from this date, to punish severely any person trafficking in human beings, or seizing persons for the purpose of using them as slaves.

XVI.

Henceforth the subjects of Sikkim may transport themselves without let or hindrance to any country to which they may wish to remove. In the same way the Government of Sikkim has authority to permit the subjects of other countries, not being criminals or defaulters, to take Sikkim.

SIKKIM.No. LX.

XVII.

The Government of Sikkim engages to abstain from any acts of aggression or hostility against any of the neighboring States which are allies of the British Government. If any disputes or questions arise between the people of Sikkim and those of neighboring States, such disputes or questions shall be referred to the arbitration of the British Government, and the Sikkim Government agrees to abide by the decision of the British Government.

XVIII.

The whole military force of Sikkim shall join and afford every aid and facility to British Troops when employed in the Hills.

XIX.

The Government of Sikkim will not cede or lease any portion of its territory to any other State, without the permission of the British Government.

XX.

The Government of Sikkim engages that no armed force belonging to any other country shall pass through Sikkim without the sanction of the British Government.

XXI.

Seven of the criminals, whose surrender was demanded by the British Government, having fled from Sikkim and taken refuge in Bootan, the Government of Sikkim engages to do all in its power to obtain the delivery of those persons from the Bootan Government, and in the event of any of these men again returning to Sikkim, the Sikkim Government binds itself to seize them, and to make them over to the British Authorities at Darjeeling, without delay.

XXII.

With a view to the establishment of an efficient Government in Sikkim, and to the better maintenance of friendly relations with the British Government, the Rajah of Sikkim agrees to remove the seat of his Government from Thibet to Sikkim, and reside there for nine months in the year. It is further agreed that a Vakeel shall be accredited by the Sikkim Government, who shall reside permanently at Darjeeling. SIKKIM.

may be classified in four groups, the Sumbulpore, Patna, and Sirgooja groups, and Singbhoom. The territories comprised in the Sumbulpore and Patna groups were ceded to the British Government by the Treaty of 1803, with

† See Nagpore.

Ragojee Bhonsla.† With the exception of Raigurh, the Chief of which State was, as a reward for his fidelity and services, declared to be under the special protection of the British Government, all these States were restored to the Mahrattas in 1806. But in 1818 they reverted to the British Government, and were finally ceded by the Treaty of 1826.

Advantage was taken of the circumstances under which Sumbulpore and Patna and their dependencies were found on their cession to annul the dependency of the other Zemindars on these two Chiefs, and in 1821 separate Sunnuds were granted by Government to each Zemindar, and separate Engagements taken. The Government from the first declined to issue any definite rules for the guidance of the Chiefs. The general line of policy to be adopted alone was indicated. The ascertained and generally admitted rights of the Rajah and the various classes of his subjects, and all customs of the country that were not incompatible with the usages of civilized nations, were to be strictly maintained. In regard to tribute, it was determined to adopt generally a lower scale than that which was levied under the Mahratta Government. Except with Raigurh, with which a final settlement (No. LXI.) was made in 1819, the settlements were all made for a limited period. They were renewed in 1827, and though the Engagements entered into in that year were nominally for five years, they have never been renewed. One of these Engagements is given (No. LXII).

Separate Engagements, of which one is given (No. LXIII.), were taken from each Chief, binding him to the right administration of the Judicial and Police powers entrusted to him. In practice the powers of the Chiefs in criminal cases are limited to the infliction of seven years' imprisonment.

Sumbulpore Proper escheated to Government in 1849. In 1833 the Zemindar of Burgurh was convicted of rebellion, and his estate was conferred on the Rajah of Raigurh. The other Mehals remain on the same footing as they were left by the settlement of 1827.

With exception of Gangpore and Bunnie, all the districts in the Sumbulpore and Patna groups have been recently put under the administration of the Superintendent of the Cuttack Tributary Mehals.

The territories forming the Sirgooja group were ceded in 1817, and in 1818 Government sent a Superintendent to Sirgooja to restore order in the country, which had become distracted by domestic feuds. In 1820 and 1825 Engagements (No. LXIV. and LXV.) were made with the Chief of Sirgooja. In 1819 Engagements (No. LXVI. and LXVII.) were also taken from the Chiefs of Jushpore and Korea, of which latter State Chang-Bûkar was then a feudal dependency; but in 1848 separate Settlements (No. LXVIII.) were made with Korea and Chang Bukar.

The estate of Oodeypore was treated as a lapse in consequence of the Chief Dhiraj Sing having been convicted of manslaughter. In 1860 the State was conferred on Lall Bundeshuree Pershad Sing Deo Bahadoor, with whom an Agreement (No. LXIX.) was made.

The Singbhoom Country was never conquered by the Mahrattas, and was in the position of an Independent State, when Rajah Ghusham Sing tendered his allegiance to the British Government in 1818. The object of the Rajah was partly to be recognized as owning the allegiance of his kinsmen the Rajah of Seraikela and the Thakoor of Khursowan, and partly to procure assistance in subduing the refractory tribe of the Lurka Coles. The Rajah's pretensions to supremacy were not recognized. An Agreement (No. LXX.) was taken from him only as regards his own estate. It is believed that separate Engagements were taken from the Rajah of Seraikela and the Thakoor of Khursowan; but no copies of these are extant.

S. W.
FRONTIER.

The estate of the Rajah of Singbhoom, afterwards styled the Rajah of Porahat, was confiscated for rebellion in 1857.

The Lurka Coles were subdued in 1821, and an Agreement (No. LXXI.) was made with them, by which they bound themselves to be subject to the British Government, and to pay a fixed tribute to their Chiefs. But in consequence of repeated outrages it was found necessary to send a force against them in 1836, when fresh Engagements were verbally made and solemnly sworn to, by which they bound themselves to obey and pay revenue to the British Government. In the following year each of the headmen received a *Sunnud and pottah, in the former of which all the conditions which they had sworn to abide by were specified. Whenever a new headman is appointed, he receives a Sunnud, and swears to abide by the conditions. In 1857 a large number of the Lurka Coles espoused the cause of the Rajah of Porahat, but on the restoration of order they reverted to peaceful pursuits. The total revenue from the district is about Rupees 45,000. The expenditure, including a Police Battalion, amounts to about Rupees 30,000.

* TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD given by CAPTAIN TICKELL to RAORIA MANKEE of Kowsillapossi, in Bur Peer, dated 10th December 1838.

Be it known to you, Raoria Mankee, of Kowsillapossi, in Bur Peer, that the post of Mankee in Bur Peer is given to you, therefore I give you this Sunnud under orders of the Agent, Governor-General, of the 10th December 1838. You must act in accordance therewith. In conformity with your Agreement, made in presence of the Agent, Governor-General, and Assistant Commissioner, you will be held responsible for all the crimes, viz., theft, murder, dacoity, highway robbery, and plunder, &c., occurring in all the villages under your charge. If the revenue of your Illakah be not received on the fixed date, you will be held personally responsible for it: the Government revenue will be collected according to the current settlement, and such as may be hereafter made. You will perform your duties zealously, and must arrest and deliver up criminals. You must not willingly allow offenders to escape in any way, whether in consideration of relationship or bribes. If any offenders escape from another Illakah, and take refuge in your Illakah, you must arrest them and bring them to Court, and if you conceal them or favor their cause, it will be to your discredit. You must report to the Court at once the occurrence of any theft, murder, dacoity, highway robbery, and plunder, &c., that takes place in your Illakah, and you are authorized to try and determine yourself petty cases, such as quarrels, altercations, &c., and report the fact to the Court. You are to remain loyal, and obey any orders given you by myself or any person constituted my successor. For your assistance a Moondah has been appointed in each village in your Illakah. They must obey your orders, and they will also promise before the Agent, Governor-General, and Assistant Commissioner, that they will obey their Mankee's orders, and aid him ; whatever good or bad occurs in their respective village, they must report it to the Mankee ; if they cannot find the Mankee, they will report the fact to the Naib Mankee. If I become ill or go to some other place on my own business, another Officer will be appointed to discharge the duties entrusted to me at present. Moreover, if you receive orders to arrest any offender either from the Assistant Commissioner or Acting Assistant Commissioner, you must arrest the offender and bring him to Court. If the offender absconds from your Illakah to any other, you must trace and arrest him. Or if the Mankee of other Illakah requires assistance from you to apprehend a felon, you must comply instantly, and make no excuse, and exert yourself to the utmost, so that the felon may be secured. If you be ill, or may have occasion to visit other villages, you must entrust your duties to your Naib. He is appointed by Government for those duties. Moreover, if you see that you will be detained for some time at some place on your own business, you must report that to the Court—that there may exist no anxiety in your mind. If you receive any orders from any Rajah, Baboo, Zemindar, or Karpurdauz, on any pretence whatever, you must not fail in your engagement ; on the contrary, you must arrest the bearer of the said order, and bring him to the Assistant Commissioner or to the Officer in charge for the time being. If any body disturbs the peace of your Illakah, you must collect your force or followers, and arrest the man and bring him to the Assistant Commissioner. If the disturber of the peace leaves your Illakah for another, you must go there, apprehend him, and bring him to Court, and must not knowingly let him escape : you must always act up to the above instructions. You will receive a separate Pottah, and will receive one-tenth out of the revenue which will be collected by Government from your Illakah. If you neglect the discharge of the Government duties entrusted to you, then the tenth part of the revenue promised to be paid to you will be withheld, and the pottah of the Mankeeship will be taken back and given to some other person : you must keep this as a Sunnud.

TRANSLATION of a POTTAH given by CAPTAIN TICKELL to BAORIA MANKEE of KOWSILLAPOSSI, in Bur Peer, dated 19th March 1839.

Be it known to Baoria Mankee of Kowsillapossi, in "Sath Bunturia": the undermentioned villages are entrusted to you. You are nominated Mankee of those villages: you must keep the ryots in those villages satisfied, and settle them. You must be attentive to the Government orders, and collect the revenue of your Illakah according to the settlement, and bring it yourself. Whatever revenue will come from any village, one-sixth of it will be given to the Moondah, and from the remainder you will get one-tenth. Therefore this Pottah is given to you.

The most powerful Chiefs of the Tributary Mehals are the Rajahs of Mohurbhunj and Keonjhur, both of whom rendered good service during the Mutinies.

PART II.

TREATIES AND ENGAGEMENTS WITH BURMAH.

From a Report by Colonel Phayre.

It is believed that no real Treaty existed between the British Government in India and the King of Burmah, until that of Yandaboo, which was concluded on the 24th February 1826. At the period when the British in India represented a trading body and not a Sovereign power, Deputations were occasionally sent from the Governors of the Settlements both in Bengal and Madras to establish trade with the Burmese territory. Factories were erected at Syrian, near Rangoon, and at Negrais.

In 1757 a Treaty is said to have been made with the Burmese Government. The Chief of the English Factory at Negrais deputed Ensign Lester to the Capital of Burmah. He had an interview with King Alompra, the founder of the existing Dynasty, by whom the Island of Negrais, and some ground near the Town of Bassein, were granted to the East India Company. It is not known that any copy of this so-called Treaty is now in existence. Afterwards the English at Negrais were treacherously killed; but a second grant of land, for the erection of a Factory at Bassein, was subsequently made by the Burmese Government.

The first direct political intercourse between the British and Burmese Governments appears to have been when Captain Michael Symes was deputed by the Governor-General as Envoy to the Court of Ava in 1795, for the purpose of strengthening the Political and BURMAH. Commercial relations of the British Government with the Court of Ava, and of preventing the French from gaining a footing in Burmah. Captain Symes obtained a Royal Order (No. LXXX), whereby permission was given for a British Agent or Superintendent to reside at Rangoon, to protect the interests of British subjects, and arrangements were made for the protection of trade.

In virtue of that arrangement Captain Cox was appointed Superintendent, and he landed at Rangoon in October 1796. He proceeded to the Capital to deliver certain presents to the King, which had been formerly promised by Captain Symes. He was, however, treated with much contumely. Eventually he returned to Rangoon and left for Bengal at the latter end of 1797.

About this time there began some disputes on the border between Arakan and Chittagong. The Burmese had conquered Arakan in 1782. The Arakanese rebelled, and about the year 1797 numbers of them began to take refuge in the Chittagong district. The Burmese Governor of Arakan wrote during 1798, and demanded in an insolent manner that the fugitives should be given up. The Governor-General, Marquis Wellesley, then determined to send another Embassy to the Court of Ava. Captain, now Colonel, Symes was again selected. He proceeded to the Capital. There he obtained merely a verbal assurance that no further demand would be made for the Arakanese fugitives. The King would make no apology for the style in which the demand had been made, nor enter into any new Engagement. Colonel Symes returned to Rangoon, where he was not treated with ordinary civility by the Governor, and he left for Bengal in January 1803.

After this Captain Canning was deputed to Rangoon, apparently as the representative of Colonel Symes, to endeavor to obtain some apology from the Burmese Court for their past insolence, and to ascertain if the French were establishing any interest in Burmah. Captain Canning, in consequence of the overbearing conduct of the local Authorities at Rangoon, was, before long, obliged to leave the country.

In the year 1809 Captain Canning was again deputed to Rangoon as Agent to the Governor-General. The object appears to have been to enter into explanations regarding the blockade of the Isle of France, which interfered with the trade of Rangoon to that Island. Captain BURMAH. Canning proceeded to the Capital, and was well received. Having accomplished the object in view, Captain Canning returned to Bengal.

In the year 1811 the Arakanese having once more rebelled, and many of them having fled to the district of Chittagong, disputes again occurred on that Frontier. An Arakanese Chief collected a body of his countrymen in the hilly parts of the Chittagong district, and marched into Arakan to attack the Burmese. Captain Canning was deputed to the Court of Ava to explain that this movement was neither instigated nor supported by the British Government, and also to complain of outrages to British subjects perpetrated with the sanction of the Burmese Authorities in Arakan. In the meantime the Burmese Troops in Arakan had followed the Arakanese rebels into British territory, and orders were sent down from the Burmese Court to the Governor of Rangoon to make Captain Canning prisoner, and retain him as a hostage for the delivery of the Arakanese rebels. Captain Canning was fortunately safe from violence by being on board a ship-of-war, with an armed ship in company. He left Rangoon in August 1811.

Subsequently to that year the Burmese Officers in Arakan more than once made demands for the surrender of Arakanese refugees, and even made pretensions to the Sovereignty of Bengal, as far as the City of Moorshedabad, as territory pertaining to the Kingdom of Arakan. In 1819 they interfered in Assam, and in 1824 they invaded Cachar.

In the meantime, on the Arakan side, the Burmese had been encroaching; they had arrested the elephant hunters employed by the British Government, and finally they claimed the Island of Shapoorie, situated at the mouth of the River Naaf. On the night of 24th September 1823 a strong Burman Force occupied the island, killing a few sepoy of the Provincial Battalion stationed there. The Governor of Arakan also intimated that the island was theirs, and they intended to keep it. The Governor-General addressed the King of Ava, demanding the dismissal of the Governor of Arakan. No reply was received for some months. The answer which eventually came was probably written in the name of the Hlwothau or Royal Council, and merely stated that the Governors on the Frontier had full powers to act.

BURMAH. Thus on every point where the British territory, or the territories of those under British protection, touched the Burmese dominions, aggression and insult had been committed by Burmese Officers, while applications for redress were treated by the Burmese Government either with silent contempt, or with additional insult. War was therefore declared by the Governor-General against Burmah on 5th March 1824. On the 11th May of that year a Force under Sir Archibald Campbell took possession of Rangoon, and after two campaigns Peace was concluded at Yandaboo, about 40 miles distant from the Capital, on the 24th February 1826.

By that Treaty (No. LXXXI.) Arakan and the Tenasserim Provinces were ceded to the British; each Government might place a Resident at the Court of the other; and a Commercial Treaty was afterwards to be negotiated.

To effect the Commercial Treaty, Mr. John Crawford proceeded to Amarapoora. On the 23rd November 1826 he signed a Treaty (No. LXXXII) of four Articles.

Under the Treaty of Yandaboo Colonel H. Burney was appointed Resident at the Court of Ava. He arrived there in April 1830. He remained at the Burmese Court until June 1837, when he proceeded to Rangoon, and eventually returned to Bengal. The immediate cause of his leaving was, that a revolution occurred, in which the reigning King was deposed, and his brother, the Prince of Tharawaddy, ascended the throne. In 1834 an Agreement (No. LXXXIII.) was made for the restoration to Burmah of the Kubo Valley, which had been annexed to Munnipore.

In 1838 Colonel Benson was deputed to the Court of Burmah to re-establish the friendly relations which had been interrupted. He reached the Capital in October 1838. In consequence of the insulting conduct of the Burmese Court, the Resident left Amarapoora in 1839. From that time there was no direct official communication between the Governor-General of India and the King of Burmah for several years.

In July 1851 Lieutenant-Colonel Bogle, Commissioner of the Tenasserim Provinces, forwarded to the Supreme Government a Petition from the Master of a British ship, complaining of gross oppression which he had suffered from the Governor of Rangoon. In November of that year Commodore Lambert was deputed to Rangoon with a letter addressed to the King, in order to obtain redress. But all reparation BURMAH. for the injuries to British subjects was refused. The Governor-General therefore sent a Force to Rangoon, under the command of Major-General Godwin. Rangoon fell to the combined Naval and Military Force on the 14th April 1852. From that time, until 27th January 1853, no communication from the Burmese Government reached the British Commanders. When the combined Forces had reached Meeaday, about 250 miles by the river above Rangoon, a Burmese Officer arrived with a letter, announcing that a new King reigned in Amarapoora, and expressing his desire for Peace. Early in April the Burmese Woongyee duly empowered reached Prome, but as he refused to sign a Treaty acknowledging the Province of Pegu to be British territory, the negotiations were broken off. On both sides, however, it was understood that hostilities were to cease.

In the latter end of the year 1854 the Burmese Government deputed two Envoys of high rank, and some subordinate Officers, to convey a complimentary letter and presents from the King to the Most Noble the Marquis of Dalhousie. They were received in Calcutta with distinction, and returned to Burmah at the beginning of the year 1855. The Government of India sent a return Embassy to the Burmese Court in the rainy season of 1855. The Envoy, Major Phayre, was received by the King and Court in the most friendly manner. The King, however, manifested an insuperable aversion to signing any Treaty giving up the Province of Pegu. Since then the intercourse with the Burmese Court, now held at the new Capital of Mandalay, has been very friendly.

The population of the territories now subject to the King of Burmah, including the tributary Shan States, probably does not exceed three and a half millions of souls. The area of the whole country is about 192,000 square miles. The present King derives his income principally from monopolies of merchandise, and takes as little as possible in the shape of direct taxation. The revenue of the country, collected in silver, probably is about £800,000 a year. In the shape of produce and labor it is probable that one-fourth of that sum may be added.

There is only one Independent Native State bordering on Pegu, with which the British Government has any political relations. There are numerous Shan States far to the north-east. But they generally owe fealty to the Burmese Monarch.

BURMAH. On the North-East Frontier of Pegu, and bordering on the Salween River, is a tribe who call themselves Kaya, and are known to the Burmese by the name of Karennee or Red Karen. These people first became known to the British Government in the year 1836, when the Commissioner of the Tenasserim Provinces deputed Doctor Richardson to proceed to them and make arrangements for opening trade. The whole race appeared then to be under the dominion of one Chief. He was an Independent Sovereign. Within the last eight years the tribes have become separated into two great divisions, denominated Eastern and Western Karennee. Each of these divisions is more or less subject to two principal Chiefs. But the authority of these over the subordinate Chiefs is very uncertain. The Chief of Eastern Karennee, a few years ago, swore allegiance to the King of Burmah, and that portion of the country has since been considered as subject to that Monarch.

The Chief of Western Karennee is of great age, not less than ninety years. This Chief, and those under him, have from the first shown anxious desire for British protection. In 1855, an Agent, on the part of the British Government, was placed at his chief town, in order to observe and report events in the neighboring States, and to use his influence to check the wars and forays carried on to make captives to be sold into slavery. In January 1857 the Deputy Commissioner of Toungoo, Mr. E. O'Riley, proceeded to Karennee, on which occasion he made a contract of friendship with the ancient Chieftain. This consisted in the slaughter of a bullock, the flesh of which was eaten at a general feast, and one of the horns kept by each of the contracting persons as a pledge of sincerity. Since that period this Chief has considered himself as being under the protection of the British Government, and though no promise of protection has been made to him, yet the known fact of the public acknowledgment of friendship, and the presence of the Agent at his town, has served to keep him from serious attack.

The country of the Red Karens is mountainous. It contains an area of about 7,200* square miles. The Eastern Karennee States, reaching to the Salween River, have a population of about 180,000 souls; the Western States about 36,000.

* This is the area given by Mr. O'Riley, but it appears to be excessive.

No. LXXX.CAPTAIN SYMES' COMMERCIAL ARRANGEMENT WITH THE KING OF AVA, 1795 AND 1796.

TRANSLATION of the ROYAL MANDATE, accompanying the letter to the GOVERNOR-GENERAL, dated September 1795.

To all Killadars and Governors of Ports, in like virtue to the Maywoon of Henzawuddy.

The source of greatness and dignity celestial, whose threshold is as the firmament, and whose suppliants, when he places the Golden Foot of Majesty on their fortunate heads, like the blooming water-lilly, are inspired with confidence unbounded, such are the ministers of exalted rank, the guardians of the Empire, from among whom the high and transcendent Minister proclaims these Orders:—

Governor of Henzawuddy, whose title is Meen La Noo Retha ; Governor of the Waters, whose title is Yaaon or Rawoon ; Collector of the King's Revenues, whose title is Ackawoon ; Collector of Customs, whose title is Ackoon ; Commander of the Troops, whose title is Chekaw.

1. Whereas English merchants resort to the port of Rangoon, to carry on trade, in friendship, good faith, and confidence in the Royal protection, therefore when merchants come to the port of Rangoon, duties for godown, rabeat (searchers or appraisers) and other charges, all these shall be regulated according to the former established rates, and no more, on any pretence, shall be taken.

2. All English merchants, who have paid the Port Duties, shall be allowed to go to whatever part of the country they think fit, having obtained a certificate and order from the Maywoon, or Governor of the Province, and whatever goods English merchants wish to purchase in return, they shall not be impeded or molested, or prevented in their barter, bargain, or purchase ; and if it should be judged expedient to establish any person, on the part of the English Company, at Rangoon, for the purpose of trade, and to forward letters or presents to the King, to such person a right of residency is granted.

BURMAH.
No. LXXX.

3. If any English merchant is aggrieved, or thinks he suffers oppression, he may complain either to the Governor of the Province, by petition to the Throne, or prefer his complaint in person; and as Englishmen are, for the most part, unacquainted with the Burman tongue, they may employ whatever interpreters they think fit, previously acquainting the King's interpreters what person they mean to employ.

4. English ships driven into any Birman port by stress of weather, and in want of repairs, on due notice of their distress being given to the Officers of Government, such vessels shall be expeditiously supplied with workmen, timber, iron, and every requisite, and the work shall be done, and the supplies granted, at the current rates of the country.

5. As the English have long had commercial connexions with this Nation, and are desirous of extending them, they are to be allowed to come and depart at their pleasure, without hinderance; and seeing that the illustrious Governor-General of Calcutta, in Bengal, on the part of the King of England, has sent tokens of friendship to the Golden Feet, these orders are therefore issued for the benefit, ease, and protection of the English people.

TRANSLATION of the ROYAL ORDER, regulating the Customs to be taken at the several Chokeys between Ummerapoor and Rangoon.

Sindars, Chokeydars, and Guards of the several Ghauts, extending to the verge of the ocean.

Whereas the Governor-General, out of his friendship, has deputed Captain Michael Symes from Calcutta in Bengal, to be his vakeel at

BURMAH. this Court, who having made a representation and memorial to us,
 No.
 LXXX. such representation has accordingly been taken into due consideration.

Merchants having paid the established Duty on their merchandize, who do not dispose of such goods at the place of importation, but choose to bring them to the capital (literally the Golden Feet) either in person or by their agent, from such merchants no Duties are, on any pretence, to be exacted or demanded on the way to the Capital, but when merchants going back carry with them goods in return, they are to pay Duties on such returning goods, in like manner as is specified by the Regulations issued from the Dufter of the Golden Palace, in the Burman year 1145: wherefore orders are despatched to the several Chokeys, also to the Maywoon of Henzawuddy, and those matters which were submitted by the principal Ministers to His Majesty are fully authorized.

Moreover, in the Burman year 1157, and the 26th of the Burman month Saundecoup, or the 26th of the Mussulman month Rubbi-ul-awul, the Royal Mandate came forth to the following effect:—

At the Chokey called Keouptaloom, boats returning from the capital shall pay one mima, or one anna and a half.

At the Chokey called Muggoe, if the breadth of the boat be four cubits, for each cubit twelve annas, or three takals in all shall be paid. But if it be less than four cubits, one takal shall be paid for every thousand viss weight of goods; and if the boat be empty, then shall one mima, or four annas, be paid for each man.

At the Chokey called Pulloe, if the breadth be four cubits, six mima, or ten annas, shall be paid for each cubit; and if the boat exceeds, or is under four cubits, the same rate shall be paid: and if the boat be laden with heavy commodities, then shall one takal be taken for every thousand viss.

At the Chokey called Puttoo the Custom taken shall be, for each cubit in breadth, three mima, or twelve annas.

At the Chokey called Keounzelee, and the Chokey called Nawalee, no Duty is to be exacted. Yet some trifle should be given by way of present; but no boat is to be stopped or impeded.

At the Chokey called Tow, where the Duty formerly was levied in lead, it shall now be levied in silver; that is, one takal shall be paid by each boat, for every thousand viss burthen.

At the Chokey called Trougmeow, if the boat be four cubits in breadth, two hundred and fifty takals of lead (about ten annas) shall be paid for each cubit, but if the boat be less than four cubits, then shall three viss and thirty takals of lead be taken for the whole (something less than a Rupee). BURMAH.
No.
LXXX.

At the Chokey called Bamen, boats shall pay six mima, or ten annas, for each cubit in breadth.

At the Chokey called Ackeo there is no established Duty; but from boats laden with rice, salt, fish, and nappee, it is customary to give some trifle.

At the Chokey called Hienzawa, if a boat carries ten boatmen, besides the steersman, for each of such boatman thirty-five takal of lead shall be paid, but the steersman shall pay nothing. If a boat be laden with rice, dhall, paddy, barley, kengid or cotton, then shall the boat so laden pay a quarter of a basket of such commodity; and if a boat be laden with heavy articles, such as salt, fish, and nappee, four viss of such heavy commodity shall be exacted from each boat. And when a boat going down pays these Duties, no Duties shall be required of the same boat returning; and the reverse, a boat that has paid the Duty shall not be taxed going down. Some trifling present will be proper.

At the Chokey called Denoubeon, if the breadth of the boat be four cubits, such boat shall pay two hundred and fifty takals of lead; if under that size, for each boatman fifty takals.

At the Chokey called Yangansea, and the Chokey called Panglang, on the north side, no Duty is to be paid, but a tray is to be given (meaning a trifling present, not more than the value of a Rupee).

In the Burman year 1145, a Mandate was issued from the Register of the Golden Palace, that foreign merchants should have liberty to come to the Capital (Golden Feet) without paying Duties; nevertheless, in returning they shall pay agreeable to the rates specified in the Royal Mandate issued from the Durbar of the Golden Palace, nor shall more or less be demanded or accepted: but to the Chokey of Yangansea, on the north side, and the Chokey Panglang, on the north side, and the Chokey Koongee and the Chokey of Lounggee, no

PART III.

TREATIES AND ENGAGEMENTS

WITH THE

NATIVE STATES OF THE MALAYAN PENINSULA, AND THE ISLAND OF SUMATRA, AND WITH SIAM.

MALAYAN PENINSULA.

From a Report by Colonel Cavenagh, and other documents in the Foreign Office.

WITH the exception of the territories of one or two petty Independent States, the possession of the Malayan Peninsula is divided between the British and the Siamese. Engagements have been formed with Quedah, which is tributary to Siam, and with the Independent States of Perak, Salengore, the Confederate States of Rambow, &c., and Johore. The districts of Tringanu and Kelantan are also protected by the British Government under the Treaty of Bangkok.

The Treaty by which the general policy of the British Government in the Eastern Seas is regulated is the Treaty with the Dutch of 17th March 1824 (No. LXXXIV.), by the 10th Article of which the connection of the Dutch with the Peninsula of Malacca was severed.

Malacca was founded about the middle of the 13th century by Rajah Secunder Shah of Singapore. It was taken by the

MALAYAN Portuguese under Albuquerque in 1511, and fell into the hands of PENIN- the Dutch in 1641, who held it till 1795, when it was reduced, along SULA. with the other Dutch Settlements in the East, by the British. It continued in possession of the British till 1818, when it was restored to the Dutch. It was finally receded to the British under the Treaty with the Dutch, of 1824.

To the north of Malacca lies Naning, which, at the time of the Dutch occupation of Malacca, was governed by four Chiefs, who formed a Treaty with the Dutch. The headman or Painghulu was appointed by the Dutch. After the British occupation of Malacca and Naning, an Engagement (No. LXXXV.) was made with the Chiefs in 1802. In 1831 the Chiefs rebelled, and it was found necessary to subdue the country by force.

Quedah.—Our earliest political relations with this State may be said to have commenced with the negotiations which were opened with the Rajah of Quedah by Captain Francis Light, and which resulted in the Agreement of 1786 (No. LXXXVI.), for the cession of the Island of Penang, thenceforward called Prince of Wales' Island. The Island was formally taken possession of on the 11th August 1786.

On the 1st of May 1791, a Treaty (No. LXXXVII.) was concluded by Captain Light, which provided for the mutual surrender of runaway slaves, debtors, forgerers, and murderers; for the necessary supply of provisions (duty-free) from the mainland to the residents in the Island and shipping in the harbour, and for the annual payment to the King of Quedah, styled His Highness Jang de Per Tuan, of the sum of six thousand Spanish Dollars; it also bound the King not to allow Europeans of other nations to settle in his country.

On the 6th June 1800, Sir George Leith, who had succeeded to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Prince of Wales' Island, entered into further negotiations with the Ruler of Quedah, and another Treaty (No. LXXXVIII.) was concluded for the cession of a considerable district, now called Province Wellesley, on the mainland. This Treaty was not confirmed till November 1802.

Both these Treaties appear to have been negotiated under the impression that the Ruler of Quedah was an Independent Chief, whereas he was tributary to Siam.

In 1820 the Rajah of Quedah having given umbrage to the Court at Bankok, by delaying to forward the usual tribute of gold and silver flowers, and by non-compliance with other customary observances and marks of vassalage, that Court determined upon depriving him of his delegated Government, and in November 1821 the Rajah of Ligor, another feudatory of Siam, advanced into Quedah at the head of a formidable army, and expelled the Rajah, who found refuge in Penang, on the express condition that neither he nor any of his followers should, during their stay in that Island, carry on any political correspondence without the approval of the British Government. This condition he violated, and as the mediation of Government with a view to his restoration proved unsuccessful, it was stipulated under the Treaty of Bankok* that he should leave Penang. In accordance with the provisions of the above Engagement, the Ex-Rajah was compelled to take up his residence at Malacca, a suitable Pension having been assigned for his maintenance by the British Government.

The Ex-Rajah made several unsuccessful attempts to recover his country from the Ligor Chief. At length, in 1842, his eldest son proceeded to Bankok and made submission to Siam on behalf of his father, and through the intercession of the Governor of the Straits Settlements the Ex-Rajah was put in charge of Central Quedah, one of the three Governorships into which Quedah had been divided. The 13th Article of the Treaty of Bankok was therefore modified. In 1843 the Rajah of Quedah forcibly seized the Krea District in Perak, the Ruler of which country appealed to the Governor of the Straits Settlement for redress. Owing to the remonstrances of the Governor, the Rajah eventually withdrew his followers from the district, but his annual allowance was suspended for a year as a punishment for his contumacy in the first instance.

On the Rajah's death, his eldest son, Tuanku Abdullah, was appointed by the Court at Bankok to succeed him ; he was similarly succeeded by his brother Tuanku Daie, who died on the 8th May 1854 ; his son, the present Rajah, Tuanku Ahmeed, at once assuming the reins of Government.

* In this Treaty the Government of the British over Penang and Province Wellesley was acknowledged by the Siamese.

Perak.—The State of Perak was originally a dependency of Malacca, and about the middle of the sixteenth century, the Bandahara of Johore was raised to the dignity of the Sultan of Perak, under the name of Mozuffer Shah. His son Mansur Shah became King of Acheen about 1567, and Perak was thenceforth tributary to him and his successors, who received the customary token of vassalage, the Bungah Mas (golden flower). On the decline of the power of Acheen, Perak became independent and fell under the influence of the Dutch. In 1795 an expedition from Penang compelled the Dutch Garrison of the small Fort at Perak to surrender. This led to an increase of our trade with the country, the whole of the produce of the tin mines being brought to Penang. The then reigning Sultan, Mahomed Tajud Din, died in 1801, and was succeeded by his son Sultan Mansur Shah.

In 1818 a Treaty (No. LXXXIX.) was concluded by the Governor of Prince of Wales' Island with the Rajah of Perak, Sultan Abdullah, under the provisions of which the right of free trade with Perak was secured to British subjects.

In 1825 differences having arisen between the Rulers of Perak and Selangore, Mr. Anderson was deputed to adjust matters. This led to the negotiation of the Treaty (No. XC.), dated 6th September 1825, by which the boundary between the two States is determined; the Rajah of Perak also thereby engaged not to interfere in the Government of Selangore, and to permit all Foreign traders to carry on their trade without any interruption.

Under the provisions of Article XIV. of the Treaty of Bangkok, the independence of Perak is secured, though the Rajah is permitted, should he so desire, to maintain a friendly communication with Siam, and even to send the gold and silver flowers as formerly. This Article also contains a guarantee on the part of the British Government to protect Perak from any attack by a force from Selangore. In September of the above year intimation having been received by the Governor of Prince of Wales' Island, that the Rajah of Ligor had introduced a body of troops into Perak and deprived the Rajah of Perak of all power, a small force was at once despatched to insist upon the strict fulfilment of the terms of the Treaty. The Siamese evacuated the position they had taken up on the bank of the river, and the independence of Perak from their control has ever since been fully recognised.

Under a Treaty (No. XCI.), dated 18th October 1826, the Rajah of Perak, on the plea of his inability to suppress the piracy then prevalent along his coast, ceded to the British the Dinding Island, the Islands of Pungkor, and all other Islands previously appertaining to Perak ; and by a second Treaty (No. XCII.), concluded on the same date, he engaged to hold no intercourse with the King of Siam, or any of his Chiefs, or with the Rajah of Selangore ; not to present the Bunga Mas or any other species of tribute, nor to receive any Ambassadors, and in case of any interference with his country on the part of Foreign Chiefs, to rely entirely on the aid and protection of the British Government: this aid and protection being guaranteed to him, provided he faithfully fulfilled all his Engagements. On the 25th October a Supplementary Treaty (No. XCIII.) was signed, which provides for the better management of the country, the suppression of piracy, and the protection of trade.

Although the Rajah is the only Chief recognised by us as having power in Perak, it would appear that this power is shared with the following great Officers of his Court:—Rajah Mudah, Bandahara, Orang Kaya Besar, and Tumongong, whose seals are attached to the different Treaties. The first mentioned is the heir apparent to the Throne, an elective, and not hereditary post, though the choice is limited to members of the Royal Family.

Selangore.—In 1786 the independent Rajah of Selangore was obliged to acknowledge himself a vassal of the Dutch, who were then in possession of Malacca. When the Dutch came again into possession of Malacca, in 1818, they wished to re-enter on their former relations with Selangore, but the Rajah, who had a strong partiality for the British, with whom he had formed a Commercial Alliance, (No. XCIV.) refused.

In 1825, when Mr. Anderson was deputed to settle the dispute between Selangore and Perak, a Treaty (No. XCV.) was concluded with the Rajah, under the provisions of which the former Agreement is confirmed, whilst the boundary between Selangore and Perak having been determined, the Rajah of Selangore agrees never to interfere in the Government of the latter country, or to cross the Frontier with an armed force, also to prevent pirates from resorting to his coast, as well as to surrender all offenders, such as pirates, robbers, murderers, and others, who may escape from the British territories and seek shelter in his country—these latter conditions being reciprocal. By the 14th Article of the Treaty of the 20th June 1826, with Siam, the safety of Selangore, from any attack on the part of a Siamese force, is guaranteed, and this State, equally with Perak, may therefore be considered under British protection.

Although still nominally under one Chief, Selangore is at present divided into five almost Independent States, viz. Lookoot, Lungat, Kallang, Selangore, and Bernam. Of these the principal is Lookoot, by the Rajah of which country Cape Rachado has, with the sanction of the Sultan of Selangore, recently been made over to the British Government for the erection of a light-house.

It is currently reported that the Rajah of Lookoot has been recently vested by the Sultan with supreme authority over the whole of Selangore, but no official notification has as yet been made to Government on the subject.

Confederate States of Sungie Ujong, Rambow, Johole, and Sree Menanti.—These States were originally dependencies of Johore. About 1773 they renounced their allegiance to that Sovereign, and elected a Chief, under the title of Jang de Per Tuan Besar, to preside over the Council of the four Punghooloos, each Punghooloo having, however, independent jurisdiction in his own State. Hence all real power remains in their hands, that possessed by the Jang de Per Tuan being only nominal. Subsequently, in 1796, another Chief was appointed a Member of the Council, under the title of Jang de Per Tuan Muda.

In 1814 an Appeal was made by the then Jang de Per Tuan Muda to the British Resident at Malacca, for assistance against the four Punghooloos, with whom he was at variance. This was, however, refused.

On the 30th November 1831, Rajah Ali, being then Jang de Per Tuan Besar, and his son-in-law, Shrief Syed Saban, Jang de Per Tuan Muda, a Treaty (No. XCVI.) was concluded between the British Government and the Confederate States. This Treaty provides, under special conditions, for the mutual surrender of criminals, and the settlement of disputes that may arise between the contracting Governments or any of their Dependent States, as well as for the protection of trade and the suppression of piracy. A similar Treaty (No. XCVII.) was negotiated with Rambow, as a separate State, on the 28th January 1832.

The position of Malacca, where it is conterminous with the boundaries of Rambow and Johole, was defined in separate Agreements made with the Rulers of these States, dated respectively 9th January and 15th June 1833 (Nos. XCVIII. and XCIX.)

MALAYAN
PENIN-
SULA.

Although the Rulers of the different States still occasionally meet for the discussion of any matter affecting their common interests, for some time past the Confederacy may be said to have ceased to exist, and the late Jang de Per Tuan, who was also the Punghooloo of Sree Menanti, exercised but little influence over the other Chiefs. His position indeed seems never to have been recognised by the British Government, all correspondence with the various Chieftains having been conducted without any reference to his authority. The foregoing observations may be deemed generally applicable to the small States of Lingie and Gumimchi, the former being a dependency of Sungie Ujong, and the latter of Johole.

The districts of Kooh and Tamping, though forming a portion of Rambow, are at present ruled by Syed Saban, under whose authority they were originally placed, in his capacity of Jang de Per Tuan Muda.

Johore.—Our political relations with Johore may be said to date from 1818, on the 19th of August of which year a Treaty (No. C.) of Peace and Friendship, having for its aim the protection of commerce, was concluded by Major Farquhar with Sultan Abdul Rahman Shah, the youngest son of Sultan Mahomed, who had, however, consequent on the absence of his elder brother, Tuanku Hoossein, in Pahang, whither he had proceeded to celebrate his marriage with the daughter of the Bandahara, assumed the Sovereignty, though it is alleged only as a temporary measure, on his father's demise.

Sultan Abdul Rahman Shah is reported to have subsequently abdicated in favor of his brother, who was publicly installed as Sultan by Sir Stamford Raffles in 1819. On the 6th of February and 26th June of that year, Treaties (No. CI. and CII.) were negotiated with the Sultan and the Tumongong, for the establishment of an English Factory at Singapore, and the protection of British Commerce throughout the Sultan's dominions.

In 1824 it was deemed desirable to obtain the absolute cession of Singapore in full Sovereignty, and with this view a fresh Treaty (No. CIII.) was entered into with the Sultan and Tumongong, under the provisions of which the Island of Singapore, with the Seas, Straits, and Islets within ten* geographical miles from its coasts, became a British Settlement, whilst due arrangements were effected for the suppression of piracy and the furtherance of British Commercial interests in Johore.

The Sultan and Tumongong and their successors have, up to the present date, continued to reside at Singapore. Owing, however, to the differences between them arising out of their respective claims to the revenue derived from the Sovereignty of Johore on the main land, it was considered by the Local Government advisable that this Sovereignty should be vested in the hands of one Chief, who should exercise undivided authority over the whole country, and the Tumongong having been selected for the purpose, with the consent of the Governor-General in Council, on the 10th March 1855, a Treaty (No. CIV.) was arranged between His Highness and the Sultan, under the terms of which, the latter, in consideration of the payment of a certain sum and a monthly Pension, ceded to the former absolute Sovereignty over Johore, merely retaining authority over the District of Segamat or Moar, a small tract between Johore and the British Settlement of Malacca, which has never formed a part of the former, having always been governed by a distinct Chief, bearing, however, the title of Tumongong, and acknowledging allegiance to the Sultan. Under the provisions of the above Treaty, in the event of the Sultan's being desirous of relinquishing the Sovereignty of Moar, it is in the first instance to be offered for the acceptance of the British Government.

The State of Pahang was originally a dependency of Johore, and governed by a hereditary Officer of that Court, styled the Bandahara. But for some years past the Bandahara has completely thrown off his allegiance to Johore, and asserted his independence.

Pahang may, to a certain extent, be considered as under the protection of this Government, as, notwithstanding the non-existence of any Treaty obligations, on all occasions of necessity, either owing to internal dissensions or external attack, the advice and support of the Governor of the Straits Settlement has always been sought by the Bandahara, and to the assistance thus obtained his present independent position may be mainly attributed.

The States of Jellabu Ulu Pahang (including Sutting and Jampole) and Jillye also formed a portion of the original confederacy of the Malay Peninsula, owing allegiance to the Sultan of Johore. This allegiance seems never to have been formally renounced by their Punghooloos, as they continued to acknowledge the Sultan's authority after the secession of Sungie Ujong, Rambow, Johole, and Sree Menanti. Hence, as no separate Treaties have ever been negotiated with these Chiefs, our political relations with them could only be regulated with reference to any rights acquired by virtue of the various Treaties concluded with the Sultan of Johore, to whom they still apparently consider themselves nominally feudatories, although he has long since ceased to exercise any control over their actions.

NOTE addressed by the BRITISH PLENIPOTENTIARIES to the PLENIPOTENTIARIES of the NETHERLANDS.

In proceeding to the signature of the Treaty which has been agreed upon, the Plenipotentiaries of His Britannick Majesty have great satisfaction in recording their sense of the friendly and liberal spirit which has been evinced by Their Excellencies the Plenipotentiaries of His Netherland Majesty; and their conviction that there is, on both sides, an equal disposition to carry into effect, with sincerity and good faith, the Stipulations of the Treaty, in the sense in which they have been negotiated.

The differences which gave rise to the present discussion are such as it is difficult to adjust by formal Stipulation; consisting, in great part, of jealousies and suspicions, and arising out of the acts of subordinate Agents, they can only be removed by a frank declaration of intention, and a mutual understanding as to principles between the Governments themselves.

The disavowal of the proceedings whereby the execution of the Convention, of August 1814, was retarded, must have satisfied Their Excellencies the Netherland Plenipotentiaries, of the scrupulous regard with which England always fulfils her engagements.

The British Plenipotentiaries record, with sincere pleasure, the solemn disavowal, on the part of the Netherland Government, of any design to aim, either at political supremacy, or at commercial monopoly, in the Eastern Archipelago. They willingly acknowledge the readiness with which the Netherland Plenipotentiaries have entered into Stipulations, calculated to promote the most perfect freedom of Trade between the subjects of the Two Crowns, and their respective Dependencies, in that part of the World.

The undersigned are authorized to express the full concurrence of His Britannick Majesty, in the enlightened views of His Majesty the King of the Netherlands.

Aware of the difficulty of adapting, at once, to a long established system of monopoly, the principles of commercial policy which are now laid down, the undersigned have been authorized to consent to the exception of the Molucca Islands from the general Stipulation for freedom of Trade, contained in the Treaty. They trust, however, that, as the necessity for this exception is occasioned solely by the difficulty of abrogating, at the present moment, the monopoly of spices, its operation will be strictly limited by that necessity.

The British Plenipotentiaries understand the term Moluccas, as applicable to that cluster of Islands, which has Celebes to the westward, New Guinea to the eastward, and Timor to the southward; but that these three Islands are not comprehended in the exception: nor would it have included Ceram, if the situation of that Island, in reference to the two principal Spice Isles, Amboyna and Banda, had not required a prohibition of intercourse with it, so long as the monopoly of spices shall be maintained.

The territorial exchanges which have been thought expedient for avoiding a collision of interests, render it incumbent upon the Plenipotentiaries of His Britannick Majesty to make, and to require, some explanations with respect to the Dependents and Allies of England, in the Island from which she is about to withdraw.

A Treaty concluded in the year 1819, by British Agents, with the King of Acheen, is incompatible with the 3rd Article of the present Treaty. The British Plenipotentiaries therefore undertake, that the Treaty with Acheen shall, as soon as possible, be modified into a simple arrangement for the hospitable reception of British vessels and subjects in the Port of Acheen. But as some of the provisions of that Treaty, (which has been communicated to the Netherland Plenipotentiaries,) will be conducive to the general interests of Europeans established in the Eastern Seas, they trust that the Netherland Government will take measures for securing the benefit of those provisions. And they express their confidence, that no measures, hostile to the King of Acheen, will be adopted by the new Possessor of Fort Marlborough.

It is no less the duty of the British Plenipotentiaries to recommend to the friendly and paternal protection of the Netherland Government, the interests of the natives and settlers, subject to the ancient Factory of England at Bencoolen.

This appeal is the more necessary, because, so lately as the year 1818, Treaties were made with the Native Chiefs, by which their situation was much improved. The system of forced cultivation and delivery of pepper was abolished; encouragement was given to the cultivation of rice; the relations between the cultivating classes and the Chiefs of the districts were adjusted; the property in the soil was recognized in those Chiefs; and all interference in the detailed management of the interior was withdrawn, by removing the European residents from the out-stations, and substituting in their room native officers. All these measures were calculated greatly to promote the interests of the native inhabitants.

In recommending these interests to the care of the Netherland Government, the undersigned request the Plenipotentiaries of His Netherland Majesty to assure their Government, that a corresponding attention will be paid, on the part of the British Authorities, to the inhabitants of Malacca, and the other Netherland Settlements which are transferred to Great Britain.

In conclusion, the Plenipotentiaries of His Britannick Majesty congratulate Their Excellencies the Netherland Plenipotentiaries, upon the happy termination of their Conferences. They feel assured, that, under the arrangement which is now concluded, the commerce of both nations will flourish, and that the Two Allies will preserve inviolate in Asia, no less than in Europe, the friendship which has, from old times, subsisted between them. The disputes being now ended, which, during two centuries, have occasionally produced irritation, there will henceforward be no rivalry between the English and the Dutch nations in the East, except for the more effectual establishment of those principles of liberal policy which both have this day asserted in the face of the World.

The undersigned request Their Excellencies the Plenipotentiaries of His Netherland Majesty will accept the assurances of their distinguished consideration.

London, March 17, 1824.

REPLY of the NETHERLAND PLÉNIPOTENTIARIES to the NOTE of the PLÉNIPOTENTIARIES of GREAT BRITAIN. *

Les Soussignés, Plénipotentiaires de Sa Majesté Le Roi des Pays-Bas, ont trouvé, dans la Note qui vient de leur être remise par Leurs Excellences Messieurs les Plénipotentiaires Britanniques, un résumé fidèle des communications, qui avaient eu lieu à l'époque où des circonstances, indépendantes de la volonté des négociateurs, amenèrent la suspension de leurs conférences.

Appelés à reprendre un travail dont l'achèvement a toujours été désiré de part et d'autre avec une égale sincérité, les Soussignés n'ont pas tardé à reconnaître dans leurs Collaborateurs, cet esprit d'équité et de conciliation, qui facilite l'arrangement des questions les plus compliquées, et auquel ils ne peuvent rendre hommage dans un moment plus opportun que celui, qui va sanctionner, par la signature d'un Traité formel, les dispositions adoptées après le plus mûr examen, comme éminemment utiles pour le maintien de la bonne intelligence, même entre les Agens inférieurs des Puissances Contractantes.

Ce but essentiel, cette tendance principale du Traité, sont palpables pour tous ceux qui en lisent avec attention les defférens Articles. Ce qui s'y trouve expressément stipulé, semble devoir suffire pour lever, d'un commun accord, toute incertitude, qui pourrait se présenter par la suite. Cependant, comme Messieurs les Plénipotentiaires Britanniques ont cru devoir entrer dans quelques détails ultérieurs, les Soussignés, qui, de leur côté, sentent l'importance de ne rien donner au hasard, dans une matière aussi intéressante, ne font aucune difficulté de les suivre dans ces détails, et de compléter, par le développement succinct de leur manière de voir, la réponse, due par eux, à la susdite Note de Leurs Excellences.

L'Article VII. renferme une exception au principe général de la liberté du Commerce. La nécessité de cette exception, déjà admise par l'Angleterre dans les conférences de 1820, repose sur l'existence du système rélatif au Commerce exclusif des épiceries. Si les délibérations du Gouvernement des Pays-Bas conduisent à l'abandon de ce système, aussitôt le Commerce libre reprend ses droits, et tout cet Archipel, qui a été fort justement décrit comme compris entre Celebes, Timor et la Nouvelle Guinée, est ouvert à toutes les spéculations légitimes, sur le pied à établir par les ordonnances locales, et, pour ce qui concerne en particulier les sujets de Sa Majesté Britannique, conformément aux basses consacrées par le Traité pour toutes les possessions Asiatiques des deux Parties Contractantes.

Par contre, aussi long-tems que l'exception, dont il s'agit, reste en vigueur, les navires qui traversent les Moluques, doivent s'abstenir de relâcher, dans d'autres Ports que ceux dont la désignation a été officiellement communiquée aux Puissances maritimes il y a quelques annees ; sauf les cas de détresse pour lesquels il est superflu d'ajouter, qu'ils trouveront, dans tous les endroits où flotte le Pavillon des Pays-Bas, les services et les secours dûs à l'humanité souffrante.

Si le Gouvernement de la Grande Bretagne pense qu'il y a un avantage réel pour lui à ce qu'en se dégageant, d'après les principes consacrés par le Traité qui va être signé, des liaisons que ses Agens formèrent, il y a quatre ou cinq ans, dans le Royaume d'Acheen, il assure, par quelque stipulation nouvelle, l'accueil hospitalier des Sujets et Vaisseaux Britanniques dans les Ports de ce Royaume,—les Soussignés n'hésitent pas à déclarer que, de leur côté, ils n'y voyent aucun inconvénient ; et ils croient pouvoir assurer, en même tems, que leur Gouvernement s'appliquera, sans délai, à régulariser ses rapports avec Acheen, de manière que cet Etat, sans rien perdre de son indépendance, offre au Navigateur et au Commerçant cette constante sécurité, qui semble ne pouvoir y être établie, que par l'exercice modéré d'une influence Européenne.

A l'appui des informations contenues dans la dernière Note de Messieurs les Plénipotentiaires Britanniques, au sujet de Bencoolen, Leurs Excellences ont communiqué aux soussignés les deux Conventions respectivement signées le 23 Mai et le 4 Juillet de 1818, d'un côté par le Lieutenant-Gouverneur de cet établissement, et de l'autre par les Chefs de quelques tribus voisines. On leur a aussi fait part d'une dépêche du Gouverneur-Général en Conseil, datée de Fort William, le 9 Mai 1823, et d'après laquelle l'administration Britannique a aboli au Fort Marlborough le monopole du poivre, encouragé la culture du riz, et placé sur un pied stable et uniforme, les rapports des différentes classes de Natifs, tant entre elles, qu'avec leur chefs. Or, pour autant que les Soussignés ne se trompent point en supposant, que le but de ces arrangemens a été d'assurer la prospérité agricole de la Colonie, et d'écarter les vexations qui résultent souvent du contact immédiat de la population indigène avec les autorités ou balternes d'une administration étrangère, ils éprouvent une grande satisfaction à dire, que loin d'avoir à redouter des mesures rétroactives, les individus intéressés à l'ordre actuel des choses peuvent, au contraire, nourrir l'espoir, que le nouveau Gouvernement aura égard à leurs droits acquis, et à leur bien être ; et, ce que les Soussignés aiment surtout à garantir, il fera observer les Articles des Conventions déjà mentionnées, sur la MALAYAN

foi desquels les habitans de Pasummah, Ulu Manna, et d'autres peu- PENINanalogues, si les circonstances venaient à rendre un changement nécessaire.

Quant aux dispositions équitables et bienveillantes du Gouvernement Britannique envers les habitans de Malacca, et des autres établissemens Hollandois, cédés par le Traité, les Plénipotentiaires de Sa Majesté le Roi des Pays-Bas, en acceptent l'assurance, avec une confiance illimitée; et ce même sentiment les porte à ne pas insister, pour que les instructions et ordres, qui seront adressés aux Autorités Anglaises dans l'Inde, relativement à la remise du Fort Marlborough, et de ses dépendances, soient conçus en des termes tellement clairs, précis, et positifs, qu'on n'y puisse trouver aucun motif d'incertitude, ni aucun prétexte de délai; car ils sont persuadés que Messieurs les Plénipotentiaires Britanniques, après avoir apporté tant de modération et de loyauté à l'accomplissement de leur tâche sauront veiller à ce que le résultat des travaux communs ne soit pas compromis par égard pour des intérêts subordonnés, et des considérations secondaires. Ce résultat, Messieurs les Plénipotentiaires Britanniques l'ont décrit eux-mêmes dans leur dernière Note, et il ne reste aux Soussignés qu'à se féliciter d'y avoir concouru, et à joindre leurs vœux à ceux de Leurs Excellences, pour que les Agens respectifs dans les Possessions Asiatiques, se montrent toujours pénétrés du sentiment des devoirs, que deux Nations, amies et animées de vûes vraiment libérales ont à remplir, tant l'une à l'égard de l'autre, que vis à vis des indigènes, que le cours des évènements ou les traités ont placés sous leur influence.

(TRANSLATION.)

The Undersigned, Plenipotentiaries of His Majesty The King of the Netherlands, have found in the Note, which is just delivered to them by Their Excellencies the British Plenipotentiaries, a faithful recapitulation of the communications which had taken place at the time, when circumstances, independent of the will of the Negotiators, caused a suspension of their conferences.

Summoned to resume a work, the completion of which has ever been desired with equal sincerity by both Parties, the Undersigned have not failed to recognize in their Co-labourers in this work, that spirit of equity and conciliation, which facilitates the arrangement of the most complicated questions, and to which they cannot do justice at a time more fitting than that which is about to sanction, by the signature of a formal Treaty, the Resolutions, adopted after a most strict examination, as eminently useful for the maintenance of a good understanding, even among the inferior Agents of the Contracting Powers.

This essential aim and principal tendency of the Treaty is evident to all who read its different Articles with attention. What is therein expressly stipulated ought to suffice for the removal, by common consent, of all uncertainty which might present itself in the sequel. However, as the British Plenipotentiaries have considered it necessary to enter into some further details, the Undersigned, who, on their part, are sensible of the importance of leaving nothing doubtful in so important a matter, have no difficulty in following them through these details, and in supplying, by a concise display of their view of the subject, the answer which is due from them to the aforesaid Note of Their Excellencies.

The 7th Article contains an exception to the general principle of liberty of commerce. The necessity of that exception, already admitted by England in the Conferences of 1820, rests upon the existence of the system which respects the exclusive Trade in Spice. Should the determinations of the Government of the Netherlands lead to the abandonment of that system, the rights of free trade will be immediately restored, and the whole of that Archipelago, which has been very justly described as comprised between Celebes, Timor, and New Guinea, will be open to all lawful speculations, on the footing to be established by local Ordinances, and, so far as particularly concerns the Subjects of

His Britannick Majesty, in conformity, with the grounds sanctioned by the Treaty for all the Asiatic possessions of the Two Contracting Powers.

MALAYAN
PENIN-SULA
No.

On the other hand, so long as the exception in question remains in force, the Ships which traverse the Moluccas must refrain from touching at any Ports but those whereof the description has been officially communicated to the Maritime Powers some years back; except in cases of distress, in which it is superfluous to add, that they will find in all places, where the Flag of the Netherlands may be flying, those good offices and succours which are due to suffering humanity.

If the Government of Great Britain conceives it to be a real advantage, that by disengaging itself, according to the principle sanctioned by the Treaty which is about to be signed, from the connections which were formed by its Agents four or five years ago, in the Kingdom of Acheen, it secures, by some new clause, the hospitable reception of British Vessels and Subjects in the ports of that Kingdom; the Undersigned hesitate not to declare, that, on their part, they do not see any difficulty in it, and conceive that they may assert at the same time, that their Government will apply itself, without delay, to regulate its relations with Acheen, in such a manner that that State, without losing any thing of its independence, may offer both to the sailor and the merchant that constant security which can only be established by the moderate exercise of European influence.

In support of the information contained in the last Note of the British Plenipotentiaries on the subject of Bencoolen, Their Excellencies have communicated to the Undersigned the two Conventions respectively signed on the 23rd of May and the 4th of July 1818, by the Lieutenant-Governor of that Establishment, on the one side, and by the Chiefs of some neighbouring Tribes on the other. They have likewise communicated a Despatch of the Governor-General in Council, dated Fort William, the 9th of May 1823, and according to which the British Government has abolished at Fort Marlborough the monopoly of Pepper; encouraged the cultivation of Rice; and placed on a firm and uniform footing the relations of the different classes of Natives, as well among themselves, as with their Chiefs. But inasmuch as the Undersigned are not wrong in supposing that the object of these arrangements has been the security of the agricultural prosperity of the Colony, and the removal of the vexations which often result from the immediate contact of the Native population with the subordinate Authorities of a Foreign Government, they experience great satisfaction in saying, that, far from having cause to dread retroactive measures, the individuals interested in the existing order of things may, on the contrary, cherish the hope that the new Government will respect their acquired rights, and their welfare ; and, what the Undersigned are above all things desirous to guarantee, that it will cause the Articles of the above-mentioned Conventions to be observed, on the faith of which the Inhabitants of Pasummah, Ulu Manna, and the other Colonists in the interior, have recognized the authority, or accepted the protection, of the British East India Company ; saving, however, the power of substituting, with the full consent of the Parties interested, other analogous conditions, if circumstances should render a change necessary.

SULA.No.

With respect to the equitable and benign intentions of the British Government towards the Inhabitants of Malacca, and the other Dutch Establishments ceded by the Treaty, the Plenipotentiaries of His Majesty The King of the Netherlands accept the assurance thereof, with unlimited confidence ; and the same sentiment prevents them from insisting that the orders and instructions which shall be addressed to the English Authorities in India, relative to the surrender of Fort Marlborough, and its dependencies, should be conceived in such clear, precise, and positive terms, that no cause of uncertainty, or any pretext for delay, may be discovered in them :—being persuaded that the British Plenipotentiaries, after having accomplished their labours with so much moderation and equity, will take care that the result of their common exertions be not compromised by any regard to subordinate interests and secondary considerations. This result the British Plenipotentiaries themselves have described in their last Note, and it only remains for the Undersigned to congratulate themselves on having contributed thereto, and to unite their wishes with those of Their Excellencies, that their respective Agents in their Asiatic Possessions may ever show themselves sensible of the duties, which Two Friendly Nations, animated with truly liberal views, have to fulfil, both with reference to each other, and also towards the Natives whom the course of events or Treaties have placed under their influence.

The Undersigned avail themselves of this opportunity of renewing to MALAYAN Their Excellencies, the British Plenipotentiaries, the assurance of PENIN- their most distinguished consideration. SULA.

TREATY WITH NANING

TREATY entered into in 1801, by the BRITISH RESIDENT at Malacca, LIEUTENANT-COLONEL TAYLOR, with the PANGHULU of NANING.

Articles and Conditions dictated by Lieutenant-Colonel Aldwell Taylor, Governor and Commandant of Malacca, for and in behalf of the Honourable the Governor of Fort St. George, with Rajah Mera, Captain Panghulu, &c., called Dholi Syed; and Lela Uluh Baling and Monland Hakim, called the late Orangkayo; Kechil, called Musih; and Menobonjonkaya, called Konchil; and Maharajah Ankaia, called Sumuna; and Mulahna Garan, Ministers and Chiefs of Naning, and the circumjacent villages, who have solemnly accepted and sworn to the following Articles:—

In case any persons at Naning, children of the Menankabans and Malays, shall violate the contents of this Contract, or shall be disobedient to the Governor or his Officers, the Panghulu and Chiefs shall, at the demand of the Governor, deliver them up to be punished as they deserve.

ARTICLE 3.

The Panghulu, Chiefs, and inhabitants of Naning, Menankabans, as well as Malays, are bound to deliver one-tenth of the produce of their rice and all fruits to the East India Company; but, in consideration of their indigent circumstances, the said Company has resolved that the Panghulu shall come in person, every year, or cause one of his Chiefs to come to Malacca, in order to pay their homage to the Company, and, as a token of their submission, they shall present to the Company from the first fruits of the crop one-half coyan of paddy (400 gantangs.)

ARTICLE 4.

The inhabitants of Naning, when quitting the country, in order to proceed to Malacca, shall produce to the Shah Bunder a written permission from the Panghulu, signed and sealed with his seal; and likewise all persons who may wish to proceed from Malacca to Naning, are directed to produce to the authority there similar documents, signed (by order of the Government) by the Shah Bunder, otherwise both parties shall be obliged to send such persons back; but, when provided with the required Certificates, they will be permitted to reside at Naning and adjacent villages, and to seek the means of livelihood by agricultural pursuits, in planting betel, &c., provided they adhere and conform to the customs and usages of the place in the same manner as the other inhabitants.

ARTICLE 7.

The Panghulu, Chiefs, and the people of Naning shall have no authority to negotiate or traffic with any inland nation, but shall bring their goods down the river of Malacca, making use, under no pretext whatever, of any other passage of conveyance, nor holding any communication with any such inland nation, in the River Panagie, on pain of forfeiting their lives and property.

ARTICLE 9.

Any slaves belonging either to the Honourable Company, or the inhabitants of Malacca, that may take shelter in Naning, or the circumjacent villages or places, the Panghulu, Chiefs, and inhabitants (none excepted) shall bind themselves to apprehend and immediately send to Town such fugitives; that the same may be delivered to their masters, and a demand of 10 Rix Dollars, and not more, as a reward, shall be exacted from the owners.

ARTICLE 11.

But any person who sells any Christian slaves or freemen of Malacca to a Mussulman or Heathen, either with their own consent, or seduced, or carried away by force from their masters, more especially those who induce such Christian slaves or freemen to be circumcised, or use violence to persuade them to become Mahomedans, shall forfeit their lives and property.

ARTICLE FIRST.—His Majesty the King of Perak, of his own free will and pleasure, hereby engages, that he will adhere to the stipulations respecting the boundaries of Perak and the settlement of other points which were made with the Rajah of Salengore by Mr. John Anderson, Agent to the Honourable Robert Fullerton, Governor of Pulo Penang, &c., and also to all the stipulations contained in the Engagement Hegira which His Majesty made with the said Mr. John Anderson, dated the 20th day of Mohurrun, Monday, in the year of the 1241, all of which deeds are here declared to be fixed and unalterable. Moreover, His Majesty now engages that he will not hold any communication or intercourse with the Rajah of Siam, or with any of his chiefs or vassals, or with the Rajah of Salengore, or any of his chiefs or vassals, which may or can have reference to political subjects, or to the administration of his government and the management of his country of Perak. His Majesty will not countenance any of his subjects who may connect themselves with, or league, or intrigue with the Siamese King, or with any of his chiefs or vassals, or with the Rajah of Salengore, or any of his chiefs or vassals, or with any other Siamese or Malayan people, by which the country of Perak can in any degree or manner be disturbed, and the government of His Majesty interfered with.

SECOND.—His Majesty the King of Perak will not give or present the bungamas, or any other species of tribute whatever, to the Rajah or King of Siam, or to any of his governors or vassals, nor will he give or present such to the Rajah of Salengore, or to any other Siamese or Malayan people henceforward and for ever. Moreover, His Majesty will not receive or permit to enter into his country of Perak, from the Rajah or King of Siam, or from any of his governors or chiefs, any ambassadors or armaments arriving at Perak for the purpose of arranging political matters, or interfering in any way in the affairs and administration of the country of Perak. In like manner he will not receive into his country embassies or armaments sent by the Rajah of Salengore, or by any other Siamese or Malayan people; nor will he receive any party from any of the people, Rajahs, or countries here specified into his country, should its strength even consist of no more than thirty men, nor will he allow the least number to enter his country. But all persons of every country will, as heretofore, have free permission to trade unmolested to any port in the Perak Country, provided they do not interfere in its affairs. Should parties or armaments of the description above stated arrive in the Perak Country from any one of the countries, or Rajahs, Governors, or Chiefs, or people above specified, or should any of the said Rajahs, Governors, or Chiefs league with subjects of the King of Perak, in order to disturb his country and interfere means as may to them seem most expedient.

THIRD.—Captain James Low, as Agent for the Honourable the Governor in Council of Prince of Wales' Island, engages that if His Majesty the King of Perak will faithfully adhere to and perform all and each of the stipulations contained in this Engagement as above specified, then His Majesty shall receive the assistance of the British in expelling from his country any Siamese or Malays as above stated, who, as also above specified, may, at any time, enter the Perak Country with political views, or for the purpose of interfering in any way with the government of His Majesty. But if His Majesty shall fail to perform all and every Article of this his Engagement, binding on him, then the obligation on the British to protect him and to assist him against his enemies will cease, and he will lose the confidence and friendship of the Honourable the Governor in Council of Pulo Penang, &c., &c., for ever.

This Engagement, which His Majesty has voluntarily and with great satisfaction entered into, has received as mark of its validity the chop or seal of His Majesty, and the seal and signature of the Agent, Captain James Low, together with the chops of the ministers of Perak, who are also parties in this Engagement with the Agent, and it is delivered to the said Agent to remain as an ever-enduring memorial

After compliments—He who governs Perak, Paduka Sri Sultan

The Chop of His Ma-

Abdullah Ma-Alum Shah, desires to make known to his friend, Captain James Low, Agent to the Honourable Robert Fullerton, Governor in Council of Prince of Wales' Island, Malacca, and Singapore, with relation to the subjects on which His Majesty and the Agent have already conferred:

First.—That His Majesty will come down the river to stay at Kotah-loomoot, where he will build a Fort of proper strength, and assign a competent number of soldiers for its protection and his own, in order that all enemies and pirates may be kept at a distance, and these men will be well armed, and will be maintained by His Majesty as a standing force, to be at all times ready for defence, and to obey his orders; and for the temporary accommodation of any British Officer who may be sent to visit him, His Majesty will direct that a small house be built opposite to his own residence.

Second.—His Majesty will keep a prow always ready to convey information of importance to Pulo Penang, and will further, without delay, take measures for opening a communication overland, betwixt the Perak River and the Krian River, and thence to Pulo Penang.

Third.—The Luksamana and the Shabunder will be forthwith sent down to reside at Quala Bidor, at the spot where Rajah Hussan formerly posted himself, and these two persons will, by His Majesty's orders, erect a Fort there, and will collect the population and settle the country in that direction, and those persons trading at Perak will be encouraged and protected, according to ancient custom.

Fourth.—His Majesty will speedily seize or expel the head officers now residing at Koraw, at Laroot, at Trong, at Singkang, and at Bruwas, who may have connected themselves with pirates or robbers, and will give warning to the people there, that should they let pirates or robbers remain amongst them, and should any English come there from Penang in search of pirates, the innocent might in that case suffer with the guilty.

Fifth.—All traders to all parts of Perak will be cherished by His Majesty, and their traffic will not be delayed, but every means will be

MALAYAN

No. XCIII. conduct require harsh measures, to come to a speedy settlement of accounts with traders to Perak, and to prevent their distressing such in any way.

Sixth.—His Majesty the King of Perak will drive out of his country any person convicted of having carried off clandestinely, or by force, from any British possession, any subject of, or person living under, the British Government, and should any person so carried off be discovered, His Majesty will detain that person and give information to the Honourable the Governor of Pulo Penang, in order that such mischievous practices may be wholly prevented.

Seventh.—When the country has again got settled, His Majesty will direct his people to sow abundance of rice, gram, and rear as much poultry and as many cattle as possible, in order that his people, and those residing under the British Government, may receive mutual advantage.

Eighth.—His Majesty intends to appoint, and will appoint, a properly qualified person to superintend the collection of Duties on exports, such as tin and other merchandize.

Should any trader, a subject of His Majesty, arrive at a British port, and not be able to show a port clearance, the same will be forfeited according to custom.

Ninth.—His Majesty wishes to establish schools in this country, and will be happy should his friend, Captain James Low, assist him by sending a well-skilled school-master from Pulo Penang, and should His Majesty send any child or children to Pulo Penang to be educated in all the requisite branches of knowledge, he hopes that such child or children will be favorably received and treated.

All these things His Majesty agrees to with the greatest satisfaction.

SUMATRA.

THE Island of Sumatra is divided into a number of petty States, the chief of which are Acheen, Delly, Langkat, and Siack.

Our political relations with Acheen date as far back as 1602. Various attempts, however, which were made to establish a factory at Acheen, failed. •

In 1815 a revolution broke out, and the reigning Sovereign, Jowhar Shah, a dissolute Prince, was deposed, and Syful Alum Shah, the son of a wealthy merchant, who was related to the Royal family, was raised to the throne. After protracted negotiations, however, the ex-Rajah was restored, through the mediation of Sir Stamford Raffles, and a Treaty (No. CV.) was concluded with him.

The official note appended to the Treaty with the Dutch of 1824 required that the Treaty with Acheen should be modified into a simple arrangement for the hospitable reception of British vessels and subjects in the port of Acheen. As our relations with Acheen, however, were merely nominal, and the Treaty of 1819 had been a dead letter, and as there was free and open intercourse with the Acheen ports, it was not considered necessary to enter into any formal arrangement with Acheen.

In consequence of the numerous acts of aggression committed upon British vessels trading with the Natives along the Acheen Coast, in 1837 Captain Chads of H. M. S. Andromache was requested to visit Acheen with the view of demanding redress. In 1844 a British Force, under the command of Captain the Honourable G. F. Hastings, was again despatched to Acheen on the same account. On this last occasion severe punishment was inflicted upon the inhabitants of the villages of Qualla, Battoo, and Murdoo, which had been mainly concerned in the piracies complained of. No opposition to the measure seems to have been displayed by the Rajah, who, on the contrary, had previously endeavoured to procure the surrender to our Authorities of the principal offenders.

With Delly, Langkat, and Siack Treaties (No. CVI. to CXL.) exist, but after the Treaty with the Dutch, of 1824, the diplomatic connection of the English with Sumatra ceased.

TRANSLATION of an ENGAGEMENT presented by the KING of SIACK to MR. JOHN ANDERSON, Agent to the Governor of Pulo Penang.

Chop of the King of Siack.

The letter from the Honourable William Edward Phillips, Governor of Pulo Penang, of which his Agent, Mr. John Anderson, had the charge, duly reached His Majesty, who is seated on the throne of Siack, and respecting all that is therein contained relating to the good will of the Governor of Pulo Penang, and the improvement and enlargement of mercantile connections between Siack and Pulo Penang, His Majesty is impressed with the greatest satisfaction, because Siack and its dependencies will thereby become populous, and there will be a constant and beneficial intercourse with Penang; wherefore His Majesty, in concert with his chiefs, viz the Tuanko Panglima Besar, the Datu Sri Pakama Rajah, the Datu Sri Biji Wangsa, the Datu Maharajah Lela Muda, and the Tuan Imaum have confirmed the Treaty formerly given to Colonel Farquhar, Agent of the Governor of Pulo Penang; and in addition to that, His Majesty and the five Chiefs above-named make the following Engagement, and send it to the Governor of Pulo Penang, for the purpose of strengthening and perpetuating their reciprocal friendship, and that there may be no change or variation in the connection between Siack and Pulo Penang for ever and ever.

FIRST.—His Majesty and the five Chiefs will not grant the Dutch, or any other nation, a settlement, or permit them to hoist their colours, or reside at Siack or any place under its dominion.

SECOND.—His Majesty and Chiefs will not interrupt or prevent any Noquedahs of vessels, or traders, from going to Penang, and will not give them any orders to trade solely with Malacca, but they shall be at full liberty to follow their own inclination, and proceed to Penang as heretofore.

THIRD.—There shall be no interference with the Chiefs of the States tributary to Siack, and they shall also have full power to enter into any negotiations, or make any engagements with Penang, which SUMATRA shall not be liable to be altered or varied by His Majesty, and the No. CX.

 Datus and the Chiefs shall be at liberty to trade with Penang as they please.

FOURTH.—All merchants or traders coming from Penang to Siack, shall meet with no interruption at Siack, but be free to buy and sell where they please.

FIFTH.—To all prows, brigs, or ships, which may come to trade at Siack, meeting with any accident, either there or at sea, His Majesty and the Chiefs engage to render them every possible assistance, to enable them to return in safety to Penang.

SIXTH.—The Duties established on imports from Penang, or exports from Siack, are fixed by a list delivered to Mr. John Anderson, and they shall not be altered or varied.

SEVENTH.—His Majesty and Chiefs will not countenance or permit any pirates to remain in Siack or its dependencies, but will turn them out, in order that the trade between Siack and Pulo Penang may flourish.

EIGHTH.—If His Majesty or his country should be involved in difficulty, he will give immediate notice to the Governor of Pulo Penang, and beg assistance and advice.

Such is the Engagement of the King of Siack and his Chiefs sent to the Governor of Penang.

S I A M.

THE diplomatic relations of the British Government with Siam may be said to have commenced with Mr. John Crawford's mission in 1821. The chief object of this mission was to procure an unrestricted trade with Siam. But Mr. Crawford's negotiations were unsuccessful.

In 1826 a Treaty (No. CXII.) was negotiated by Captain Burney, with the view chiefly of preventing the Siamese from co-operating with the Burmese during the first Burmese War, in which the British Government was then engaged, and of providing for the peace of the Malayan Peninsula then disturbed, in consequence of the occupation of Quedah by the Siamese. Besides the above Treaty, Captain Burney effected a Commercial Agreement (No. CXIII.) with Siam. The provisions of this Engagement were systematically violated by the Siamese, and as the 6th Article placed British subjects under Siamese laws, its abrogation was indispensable.

In 1850 Sir James Brooke was deputed to Siam armed with plenipotentiary powers from the Queen. But his efforts to conclude a satisfactory Treaty were unsuccessful. Five years later, however, a Treaty (No. CXIV.) of friendship and commerce between Her Majesty and the Kings of Siam was negotiated by Sir John Bowring. In 1856 Mr. Parker conveyed to Siam the ratification of the Treaty by the Queen, when an Agreement (No. CXV.) was made with Siamese Commissioners to give effect to the Treaty and to define its intentions.

The dependencies of Siam in the Malayan Peninsula are Quedah, Ligor, Tringanu, Calantan, and Potani. The Engagements with Quedah have been already given (Nos. LXXXVI. to LXXXVIII). In 1831, after the Rajah of Ligor had defeated the Ex-Rajah of Quedah in an attempt to recover his country (see Quedah), the Resident of Penang visited him at Quedah and concluded an Engagement (No. CXVI.) with him regarding the boundaries of Province Wellesley, in conformity with the 3rd Article of the Treaty of Bangkok.

This boundary has not, however, up to the present moment, been actually marked out, the Commission, composed partly of British and

SIAM. partly of Siamese Officers, appointed for the performance of this duty,
No. CXII. having dissolved, owing to the illness of some of the Members, before its labors had been completed.

No. CXII.

Should any country have no merchandize, the Governor shall inform the ship that has come to trade that there is none. COMMERCIAL TREATY of 1827.

Their Excellencies the Ministers and Captain Henry Burney having settled a Treaty of Friendship, consisting of fourteen Articles, now frame the following Agreement with respect to English vessels desiring to come and trade in the city of the sacred and great Kingdom of Si-a-yoo-tha-yā (Bangkok).

ARTICLE 1.

Vessels belonging to the subjects of the English Government, whether Europeans or Asiatics, desiring to come and trade at Bangkok, must conform to the established laws of Siam in every particular. Merchants coming to Bangkok, are prohibited from purchasing paddy or rice for the purpose of exporting the same as merchandize, and if they import fire-arms, shot, or gunpowder, they are prohibited from selling them to any party but to the Government. Should the Government not require such fire-arms, shot, or gunpowder, the merchants must re-export the whole of them. With exception to such warlike stores, and paddy and rice, merchants subjects of the English, and merchants at Bangkok, may buy and sell without the intervention of any other person, and with freedom and facility. Merchants coming to trade, shall pay at once the whole of the duties and charges consolidated according to the breadth of the vessel.

If the vessel bring an import cargo, she shall be charged seventeen hundred (1,700) ticals for each Siamese fathom in breadth.

If the vessel bring no import cargo, she shall be charged fifteen hundred (1,500) ticals for each Siamese fathom in breadth.

No import, export, or other Duty shall be levied upon the buyers or sellers from, or to, English subjects.

ARTICLE 2.

Merchant vessels, the property of English subjects, arriving off the bar, must first anchor and stop there, and the Commander of the

SIAM.
No. CXIII. vessel must despatch a person with an account of the cargo, and a return of the people, guns, shot, and powder, on board the vessel, for the information of the Governor, at the mouth of the river, who will send a pilot and interpreter to convey the established regulations to the Commander of the vessel. Upon the pilot bringing the vessel over the bar, she must anchor and stop below the chokey, which the interpreter will point out.

ARTICLE 3.

The proper officers will go on board the vessel and examine her thoroughly, and after the guns, shot, and powder have been removed and deposited at Paknam (port at the mouth of the Menam), the Governor of Paknam will permit the vessel to pass up to Bangkok.

ARTICLE 4.

Upon the vessel's arriving at Bangkok, the officers of the customs will go on board and examine her, open the hold, and take an account of whatever cargo may be on board, and after the breadth of the vessel has been measured and ascertained, the merchants will be allowed to buy and sell according to the first article of this Agreement. Should a vessel, upon receiving an export cargo, find that she cannot cross the bar with the whole, and that she must hire cargo boats to take down a portion of the cargo, the officers of the customs and chokeys shall not charge any further Duty upon such cargo boats.

ARTICLE 5.

Whenever a vessel or cargo boat completes her lading, the Commander of the vessel must go and ask Chao Phya Phra Khlang for a port clearance, and if there be no cause for detention, Chao Phya Phra Khlang shall deliver the port clearance without delay. When the vessel, upon her departure, arrives at Paknam, she must anchor and stop at the usual chokey, and after the proper officers have gone on board and examined her, the vessel may receive her guns, shot, and powder, and take her departure.

ARTICLE 6.

SIAM.
No. CXHL

Merchants being subjects of the English Government, whether Europeans or Asiatics, the Commanders, officers, lascars, and the whole of the crew of vessels, must conform to the established laws of Siam, and to the stipulations of this Treaty in every particular. If merchants of every class do not observe the Articles of this Treaty, and oppress the inhabitants of the country, become thieves or bad men, kill men, speak offensively of, or treat disrespectfully any great or subordinate officers of the country, and the case become important in any way whatever, the proper officers shall take jurisdiction of it, and punish the offender. If the offence be homicide, and the officers, upon investigation, see that it proceeded from evil intention, they shall punish with death. If it be any other offence, and the party be the commander or officer of a vessel, or a merchant, he shall be fined. If he be of a lower rank, he shall be whipped or imprisoned, according to the established laws of Siam. The Governor of Bengal will prohibit English subjects, desiring to come and trade at Bangkok, from speaking disrespectfully or offensively to, or of the great officers in Siam. If any person at Bangkok oppress any English subject, he shall be punished according to his offence in the same manner.

The six Articles of this Agreement, let the Officers at Bangkok, and merchants subject to the English, fulfil and obey in every particular.

Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, Sir John Bowring, Knight, Doctor of Laws, &c., &c.,

And their Majesties the first and second Kings of Siam, His Royal Highness Krom Hluang Wongsa Dhiraj Snidh; His Excellency Somdetch Chan Phaya Param Maha Puyura Wongse; His Excellency Somdetch Chan Phaya Param Maha Bijaineate; His Excellency Chan Phaya Sri Suriwongse Samuha Phra Kralahome; and His Excellency Chan Phaya, acting Phraklang.

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, and found them to be in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:—

Article I.—There shall henceforward be perpetual peace and friendship between Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Her successors, and their Majesties the first and second Kings of Siam and their successors. All British subjects coming to Siam shall receive from the Siamese Government full protection and assistance to enable them to reside in Siam in all security, and trade with every facility, free from oppression or injury on the part of the Siamese. And all Siamese subjects going to an English country shall receive from the British Government the same complete protection and assistance that shall be granted to British subjects by the Government of Siam.

SIAM.
No. CXIV.

Article II.—The interests of all British subjects coming to Siam shall be placed under the regulation and control of a Consul, who will be appointed to reside at Bangkok. He will himself conform to, and will enforce the observance by British subjects of all the provisions of this Treaty, and such of the former Treaty negotiated by Captain Burney in 1826 as shall still remain in operation. He shall also give effect to all Rules or Regulations as are now, or may hereafter be, enacted for the Government of British subjects in Siam, the conduct of their trade, and for the prevention of violations of the Laws of Siam. Any disputes arising between British and Siamese subjects shall be heard and determined by the Consul in conjunction with the proper Siamese Officers; and criminal offences will be punished, in the case of English offenders, by the Consul, according to English Laws, and in the case of Siamese offenders, by their own Laws, through the Siamese authorities. But the Consul shall not interfere in any matters referring solely to Siamese, neither will the Siamese authorities interfere in questions which only concern the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty.

It is understood, however, that the arrival of the British Consul at Bangkok shall not take place before the Ratification of this Treaty, nor until ten vessels owned by British subjects, sailing under British colors and with British papers, shall have entered the Port of Bangkok for the purposes of trade, subsequent to the signing of this Treaty.

Article III.—If Siamese, in the employ of British subjects, offend against the Laws of their country, or if any Siamese having so offended, or desiring to desert, take refuge with a British subject in Siam, they shall be searched for, and upon proof of their guilt or desertion, shall be delivered up by the Consul to the Siamese authorities. In like manner, any British offenders, resident or trading in Siam, who may desert, escape to, or hide themselves in Siamese territories, shall be apprehended and delivered over to the British Consul on his requisition. Chinese not able to prove themselves to be British subjects, shall not be considered as such by the British Consul, nor be entitled to his protection.

Article IV.—British subjects are permitted to trade freely in all the sea-ports of Siam, but may reside permanently only at Bangkok, or within the limits assigned by this Treaty. British subjects coming to reside at Bangkok may rent land and buy or build houses, but cannot purchase lands within a circuit of 200 seng (not more than 4 miles English) from the City walls, until they shall have lived in Siam for ten years, or shall obtain special authority from the Siamese Government to enable them to do so. But, with the exception of this limitation, British residents in Siam may at any time buy or rent houses, lands, or plantations situated any where within a distance of twenty-four hours' journey from the City of Bangkok, to be computed by the rate at which boats of the country can travel. In order to obtain possession of such lands or houses, it will be necessary that the British subject shall, in the first place, make application through the Consul to the proper Siamese Officer, and the Siamese Officer and the Consul having satisfied themselves of the honest intentions of the applicant, will assist him in settling, upon equitable terms, the amount of the purchase-money, will make out and fix the boundaries of the property, and will convey the same to the British purchaser under sealed Deeds, whereupon he and his property shall be placed under the protection of the Governor of the district, and that of the particular local authorities: he shall conform in ordinary matters to any just directions given him by them, and will be subject to the same taxation that is levied on Siamese subjects. But if, through negligence, the want of capital, or other cause, a British subject should fail to commence the cultivation or improvement of the lands so acquired within a term of three years from the date of receiving possession thereof, the Siamese Government shall have the power of resuming the property upon returning to the British subject the purchase-money paid by him for the same.

Article V.—All British subjects intending to reside in Siam shall be registered at the British Consulate. They shall not go out to sea, nor proceed beyond the limits assigned by this Treaty for the residence of British subjects, without a passport from the Siamese authorities, to be applied for by the British Consul, nor shall they leave Siam if the Siamese authorities show to the British Consul that legitimate objections exist to their quitting the country. But within the limits appointed under the preceding Article, British subjects are at liberty

SIAM.
No. CXIV. to travel to and fro under the protection of a Pass, to be furnished them by the British Consul, and counter-sealed by the proper Siamese Officer, stating, in the Siamese character, their names, calling, and description. The Siamese Officers at the Government Stations in the interior may, at any time, call for the production of this Pass; and, immediately on its being exhibited, they must allow the parties to proceed, but it will be their duty to detain those persons who, by travelling without a Pass from the Consul, render themselves liable to the suspicion of their being deserters; and such detention shall be immediately reported to the Consul.

Article VI.—All British subjects visiting or residing in Siam shall be allowed the free exercise of the Christian Religion, and liberty to build Churches in such localities as shall be consented to by the Siamese Authorities. The Siamese Government will place no restrictions upon the employment, by the English, of Siamese subjects as servants, or in any other capacity. But wherever a Siamese subject belongs or owes service to some particular master, the servant who engages himself to a British subject, without the consent of his master, may be reclaimed by him, and the Siamese Government will not enforce an Agreement between a British subject and any Siamese in his employ, unless made with the knowledge and consent of the master, who has a right to dispose of the services of the person engaged.

Article VII.—British Ships of War may enter the river and anchor at Paknam, but they shall not proceed above Paknam, unless with the consent of the Siamese authorities, which shall be given where it is necessary that a ship shall go into dock for repairs. Any British Ship of War conveying to Siam a public functionary, accredited by the British Government to the Court of Bangkok, shall be allowed to come up to Bangkok, but shall not pass the Forts called Phrachamit and Pit-pach-nuck, unless expressly permitted to do so by the Siamese Government. But in the absence of a British Ship of War, the Siamese authorities engage to furnish the Consul with a force sufficient to enable him to give effect to his authority over British subjects, and to enforce discipline among British Shipping.

Article VIII.—The measurement Duty hitherto paid by British vessels trading to Bangkok, under the Treaty of 1826, shall be abolished from the date of this Treaty coming into operation; and British Shipping or Trade will thenceforth be only subject to the payment of Import and Export Duties on the goods landed or shipped.

On all articles of import, the Duty shall be three per cent., payable at the option of the importer, either in kind or money, calculated upon the market value of the goods. Drawback of the full amount of Duty shall be allowed upon goods found unsaleable and re-exported. Should the British Merchant and the Custom House Officers disagree as to the value to be set upon imported articles, such disputes shall be referred to the Consul and proper Siamese Officer, who shall each have the power to call in an equal number of Merchants as assessors, not exceeding two on either side, to assist them in coming to an equitable decision.

Opium may be imported free of Duty, but can only be sold to the Opium farmer or his agents. In the event of no arrangement being effected with them for the sale of the Opium, it shall be re-exported, and no Impost or Duty shall be levied thereon. Any infringement of this Regulation shall subject the Opium to seizure and confiscation.

Articles of export, from the time of production to the date of shipment, shall pay one Impost only, whether this be levied under the name of Inland Tax, Transit Duty, or Duty on exportation. The Tax or Duty to be paid on each article of Siamese produce, previous to or upon exportation, is specified in the Tariff attached to this Treaty; and it is distinctly agreed, that goods or produce that pay any description of Tax in the interior shall be exempted from any further payment of Duty on exportation. English merchants are to be allowed to purchase directly from the producer the articles in which they trade, and in like manner to sell their goods directly to the parties wishing to purchase the same, without the interference, in either case, of any other person.

The rates of Duty laid down in the Tariff attached to this Treaty are those that are now paid upon goods or produce shipped in Siamese or Chinese vessels or junks; and it is agreed that British Shipping shall enjoy all the privileges now exercised by, or which hereafter may be granted to, Siamese or Chinese vessels or junks.

British subjects will be allowed to build ships in Siam on obtaining permission to do so from the Siamese authorities.

SIAM.
No. CXIV. Whenever a scarcity may be apprehended of salt, rice, and fish, the Siamese Government reserve to themselves the right of prohibiting, by public proclamation, the exportation of these articles.

Bullion or personal effects may be imported or exported free of charge.

Article IX.—The Code of Regulations appended to this Treaty shall be enforced by the Consul, with the co-operation of the Siamese Authorities, and they, the said Authorities and Consul, shall be enabled to introduce any further Regulations which may be found necessary in order to give effect to the objects of this Treaty.

All fines and penalties inflicted for infraction of the provisions and regulations of this Treaty shall be paid to the Siamese Government.

Until the British Consul shall arrive at Bangkok and enter upon his functions, the consignees of British vessels shall be at liberty to settle with the Siamese Authorities all questions relating to their trade.

Article X.—The British Government and its subjects will be allowed free and equal participation in any privileges that may have been, or may hereafter be, granted by the Siamese Government to the Government or subjects of any other nation.

Article XI.—After the lapse of ten years from the date of the Ratification of this Treaty, upon the desire of either the British or Siamese Government, and on twelve months' notice given by either party, the present, and such portions of the Treaty of 1826 as remain unrevoked by this Treaty, together with the Tariff and Regulations thereunto annexed, or those that may hereafter be introduced, shall be subject to revision by Commissioners appointed, on both sides for this purpose, who will be empowered to decide on and insert therein such amendments as experience shall prove to be desirable.

Article XII.—This Treaty, executed in English and Siamese, both versions having the same meaning and intention, and the Ratifications thereof having been previously exchanged, shall take effect from the 6th day of April, in the year 1856 of the Christian Era, corresponding to the 1st day of the fifth month of the One Thousand Two Hundred and Eighteenth year of the Siamese Civil Era.

In witness whereof the above-named Plenipotentiaries have signed and sealed the present Treaty in quadruplicate at Bangkok, on the Eighteenth day of April, in the year 1855 of the Christian Era, corresponding to the Second day of the Sixth month of the One SIAM.

General Regulations under which British Trade is to be conducted in Siam.

Regulation I.—The Master of every English ship coming to Bangkok to trade must, either before or after entering the river, as may be found convenient, report the arrival of his vessel at the Custom House at Paknam, together with the number of his crew and guns, and the port from whence he comes. Upon anchoring his vessel at Paknam, he will deliver into the custody of the Custom House Officers all his guns and ammunition, and a Custom House Officer will then be appointed to the vessel, and will proceed in her to Bangkok.

Regulation II.—A vessel passing Paknam without discharging her guns and ammunition, as directed in the foregoing Regulation, will be sent back to Paknam to comply with its provisions, and will be fined eight hundred ticals for having so disobeyed. After delivery of her guns and ammunition, she will be permitted to return to Bangkok to trade.

Regulation III.—When a British vessel shall have cast anchor at Bangkok, the Master, unless a Sunday should intervene, will, within four-and-twenty hours after arrival, proceed to the British Consulate, and deposit there his Ship's Papers, Bills of Lading, &c., together with a true Manifest of his Import Cargo; and upon the Consul's reporting these particulars to the Custom House, permission to break bulk will at once be given by the latter.

For neglecting so to report his arrival, or for presenting a false Manifest, the Master will subject himself, in each instance, to a penalty of four hundred ticals; but he will be allowed to correct, within twenty-four hours after delivery of it to the Consul, any mistake he may discover in his Manifest, without incurring the above-mentioned penalty.

Regulation IV.—A British vessel breaking bulk and commencing to discharge before due permission shall be obtained, or smuggling, either when in the river or outside the bar, shall be subject to the penalty of eight hundred ticals and confiscation of the goods so smuggled or discharged.

Regulation V.—As soon as a British vessel shall have discharged her cargo and completed her outward lading, paid all her Duties, and delivered a true Manifest of her outward cargo to the British Consul, a Siamese Port Clearance shall be granted her on application from the Consul, who, in the absence of any legal impediment to her departure, will then return to the Master his Ship's Papers, and allow the vessel to leave. A Custom House Officer will accompany the vessel to Paknam, and on arriving there, she will be inspected by the Custom House Officers of that Station, and will receive from them the guns and ammunition previously delivered into their charge.

Regulation VI.—Her Britannic Majesty's Plenipotentiary having no knowledge of the Siamese language, the Siamese Government have agreed, that the English text of these Regulations, together with the Treaty of which they form a portion, and the Tariff hereunto annexed, shall be accepted as conveying in every respect their true meaning and intention.

AGREEMENT with SIAM, made in 1856.

Agreement entered into between the undermentioned Royal Commissioners, on the part of their Majesties the First and Second Kings of Siam, and Harry Smith Parkes, Esquire, on the part of Her Britannic Majesty's Government.

Mr. Parkes having stated, on his arrival at Bangkok, as bearer of Her Britannic Majesty's Ratification of the Treaty of Friendship and commerce concluded on the 18th day of April 1855, between Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and their Majesties Phra Bard Somdetch Phra Paramendy Maha Mongkut Phra Cham Klan Chan Yu Hua, the First King of Siam, and Phra Bard Somdetch Phra Pawarendr Ramesr Mahiswareser Phra Pin Klan Chan Yu Hua, the Second King of Siam, that he was instructed by the Earl of Clarendon, Her Britannic Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, to request the Siamese Government to consent to an enumeration of those Articles of the former Treaty, concluded in 1826, between the Honourable East India Company and their late Majesties the First and Second Kings of Siam, which are abrogated by the Treaty first named, and also to agree to certain explanations which appear necessary to mark the precise force and application of certain portions of the new Treaty, their aforesaid Majesties, the First and Second Kings of Siam, have appointed and empowered certain Royal Commissioners, namely, His Royal Highness Krom Hluang Wang-sa Dhiraj Snidh, and their Excellencies the four Senaputhies or Principal Ministers of Siam, to confer and arrange with Mr. Parkes the matters above-named, and the said Royal Commissioners having accordingly met Mr. Parkes for this purpose on repeated occasions, and maturely considered all the subjects brought by him to their notice, have resolved—

That it is proper, in order to prevent future controversy, that those clauses of the old Treaty, which are abrogated by the new Treaty, should be distinctly specified, and that any clause of the new Treaty,

SIAM.
No. CXV. which is not sufficiently clear, should be fully explained. To this end they have agreed to and concluded the following twelve Articles:—

ARTICLE I.

On the old Treaty concluded in 1826. .

The Articles of the old Treaty not abrogated by the new Treaty on 1, 2, 3, 8, 11, 12, 13, and 14, and the undermentioned clauses of Articles 6 and 10.

In Article 6, the Siamese desire to retain the following clause:—

“If a Siamese or English Merchant buy or sell without enquiring and ascertaining whether the seller or buyer be of a good or bad character, and if he meet with a bad man who takes the property and absconds, the rulers and Officers on either side must make search and endeavour to produce the property of the absconder, and investigate the matter with sincerity. If the party possess money or property, he can be made to pay; but if he does not possess any, or if he cannot be apprehended, it will be the Merchant’s own fault, and the Authorities cannot be held responsible.”

Of Article 10, Mr. Parkes desires to retain that clause relating to the Overland Trade, which states—

“Asiatic Merchants of the English countries, not being Burmese, Peguans, or descendants of Europeans, desiring to enter into and to trade with the Siamese dominions from the Countries of Mergui, Tavoy, Tenasserim, and Ye, which are now subject to the English, will be allowed to do so freely overland and by water, upon the English furnishing them with proper Certificates.” Mr. Parkes, however, desires that all British subjects, without exception, shall be allowed to participate in this Overland trade. The said Royal Commissioners therefore agree, on the part of the Siamese, that all traders under British rule may cross from the British Territories of Mergui, Tavoy, Ye, Tenasserim, Pegu, or other places, by land or by water, to the Siamese territories, and may trade there with facility, on the condition that they shall be provided by the British Authorities with proper Certificates, which must be renewed for each journey.

The Commercial Agreement annexed to the old Treaty is abrogated by the new Treaty, with the exception of the undermentioned clauses of Articles 1 and 4 :— SIAM.
No. CXV.

Of Article 1, the Siamese desire to retain the following clause :—
“British Merchants importing fire-arms, shot, or gunpowder, are prohibited from selling them to any party but the Government; should the Government not require such fire-arms, shot, or gunpowder, the Merchants must re-export the whole of them.”

Article 4 stipulates that no charge or Duty shall be levied on boats carrying cargo of British ships at the bar. The Siamese desire to cancel this clause, for the reason that the old measurement Duty of 1,700 ticals per fathom included the fees of the various officers. But as this measurement Duty has now been abolished, the Siamese wish to levy on each native boat taking cargo out to sea a fee of 8 ticals 2 salungs, this being the charge paid by Siamese traders; and Mr. Parkes undertakes to submit this point to the consideration of Her Majesty's Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of Siam.

ARTICLE 2.

On the Exclusive Jurisdiction of the Consul over British Subjects.

The 2nd Article of the Treaty stipulates that “any disputes arising between British and Siamese subjects shall be heard and determined by the Consul in conjunction with the proper Siamese Officers; and criminal offenders will be punished, in the case of English offenders, by the Consul, according to English laws, and in the case of Siamese offenders, by their own laws, through the Siamese Authorities.” But the Consul shall not interfere in any matters referring solely to Siamese, neither will the Siamese authorities interfere in questions which only concern the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty.

On the non-interference of the Consul with the Siamese, or of the Siamese with British subjects, the said Royal Commissioners desire, in the first place, to state that, while for natural reasons they fully approve of the Consul holding no jurisdiction over Siamese in their own country, the Siamese Authorities, on the other hand, will feel themselves bound to call on the Consul to apprehend and punish British subjects, who shall commit, whilst in Siamese territory, any grave

SIAM.
No. CXV.

infractions of the laws, such as cutting, wounding, or inflicting other serious bodily harm. But in disputes or in offences of a slighter nature committed by British subjects among themselves, the Siamese Authorities will refrain from all interference.

With reference to the punishment of offences, or the settlement of disputes, it is agreed—

That all criminal cases in which both parties are British subjects, or in which the defendant is a British subject, shall be tried and determined by the British Consul alone.

All criminal cases in which both parties are Siamese, or in which the defendant is a Siamese, shall be tried and determined by the Siamese Authorities alone.

That all civil cases in which both parties are British subjects, or in which the defendant is a British subject, shall be heard and determined by the British Consul alone. All civil cases in which both parties are Siamese, or in which the defendant is a Siamese, shall be heard and determined by the Siamese Authorities alone.

That whenever a British subject has to complain against a Siamese, he must make his complaint through the British Consul, who will lay it before the proper Siamese Authorities.

That in all cases in which Siamese or British subjects are interested, the Siamese Authorities in the one case, and the British Consul in the other, shall be at liberty to attend at and listen to the investigation of the case, and copies of the proceedings will be furnished from time to time, or whenever desired, to the Consul or the Siamese Authorities, until the case is concluded.

That although the Siamese may interfere so far with British subjects as to call upon the Consul, in the manner stated in this Article, to punish grave offences when committed by British subjects, it is agreed that—

• British subjects, their persons, houses, premises, lands, ships, or property of any kind, shall not be seized, injured, or in any way interfered with by the Siamese. In case of any violation of this stipulation, the Siamese Authorities will take cognizance of the case, and punish the offenders. On the other hand, Siamese subjects, their persons, houses, premises, or property of any kind, shall not be seized, injured, or in any way interfered with by the English, and the British Consul shall investigate and punish any breach of this stipulation.

ARTICLE 3.

SIAM.
No. CXV.

On the Right of the British Subjects to dispose of their property at will.

By the 4th Article of the Treaty, British subjects are allowed to purchase in Siam "houses, gardens, fields, or plantations." It is agreed in reference to this stipulation, that British subjects, who have accordingly purchased houses, gardens, fields, or plantations, are at liberty to sell the same to whomsoever they please. In the event of a British subject dying in Siam, and leaving houses, lands, or any property, his relations, or those persons who are his heirs according to English laws, shall receive possession of the said property; and the British Consul, or some one appointed by the British Consul, may proceed at once to take charge of the said property on their account. If the deceased should have debts due to him by the Siamese or other persons, the Consul can collect them; and if the deceased should owe money, the Consul shall liquidate his debts as far as the estate of the deceased shall suffice.

ARTICLE 4.

On the Taxes, Duties, or other Charges leviable on British Subjects.

The 4th Article of the Treaty provides for the payment on the lands held or purchased by British subjects, of "the same taxation that is levied on Siamese subjects." The taxes here alluded to are those set forth in the annexed schedule.

Again, it is stated in the 8th Article, "that British subjects are to pay Import and Export Duties according to the Tariff annexed to the Treaty." For the sake of greater distinctness, it is necessary to add to these two clauses the following explanation, namely, that beside the Land Tax, and the Import and Export Duties mentioned in the afore-said Articles, no additional charge or Tax of any kind may be imposed upon a British subject, unless it obtain the sanction both of the supreme Siamese Authorities and the British Consul.

ARTICLE 5.

On Passes and Port Clearances.

The 5th Article of the Treaty provides that passports shall be granted to travellers, and the 5th Article of the Regulations, that port

SIAM. clearances shall be furnished to ships. In reference thereto, the said
No. CKV. Royal Commissioners, at the request of Mr. Parkes, agree that the passports to be given to British subjects travelling beyond the limits assigned by the Treaty for the residence of British subjects, together with the passes for cargo boats and the port clearances of British ships, shall be issued within twenty-four hours after formal application for the same shall have been made to the proper Siamese Authorities. But if reasonable cause should at any time exist for delaying or withholding the issue of any of these papers, the Siamese Authorities must at once communicate it to the Consul.

Passports for British subjects travelling in the interior, and the port clearances of British ships, will be granted by the Siamese Authorities free of charge.

ARTICLE 6.

On the prohibition of the Exportation of Rice, Salt, and Fish, and on the Duty on Paddy.

The 8th Article of the Treaty stipulates, that "whenever a scarcity may be apprehended of salt, rice, and fish, the Siamese Government reserve to themselves the right of prohibiting, by public proclamation, the exportation of these articles."

Mr. Parkes, in elucidation of this clause, desires an Agreement to this effect, namely, that a month's notice shall be given by the Siamese Authorities to the Consul prior to the enforcement of the prohibition, and that British subjects, who may previously obtain special permission from the Siamese authorities to export a certain quantity of rice which they have already purchased, may do so even after the prohibition comes in force. Mr. Parkes also requests that the Export Duty on paddy should be half of that on rice, namely, 2 ticals per koyan.

The said Royal Commissioners, having in view the fact that rice forms the principal sustenance of the nation, stipulate that, on the breaking out of war or rebellion, the Siamese may prohibit the trade in rice, and may enforce the prohibition so long as the hostilities thus occasioned shall continue. If a dearth should be apprehended on account of the want or excess of rain, the Consul will be informed one month previous to the enforcement of the prohibition. British merchants who obtain the Royal permission, upon the issue of the proclamation, to export a certain quantity of rice which they have ^{SIAM.} already purchased, may do so irrespective of the prohibition to the ^{No. CXV.} contrary; but those merchants who do not obtain the Royal permission will not be allowed, when the prohibition takes effect, to export the rice they may already have purchased.

The prohibition shall be removed as soon as the cause of its being imposed shall have ceased to exist.

Paddy may be exported on payment of a Duty of 2 ticals per koyan, or half the amount levied on rice.

ARTICLE 7.

On permission to Import Gold-leaf as Bullion.

Under the 8th Article of the Treaty, bullion may be imported or exported free of charge. With reference to this Clause, the said Royal Commissioners, at the request of Mr. Parkes, agree that foreign coins of every denomination, gold and silver in bars or ingots, and gold-leaf, may be imported free; but manufactured articles in gold and silver, plated-ware, and diamonds or other precious stones, must pay an Import Duty of three per cent.

ARTICLE 8.

On the Establishment of a Custom House.

The said Royal Commissioners, at the request of Mr. Parkes, and in conformity with the intent of the 8th Article of the new Treaty, agree to the immediate establishment of a Custom House, under the superintendency of a high Government Functionary, for the examination of all goods landed or shipped, and the receipt of the Import and Export Duties due thereon. They further agree that the business of the Custom House shall be conducted under the regulations annexed to this Agreement.

ARTICLE 9.

On the subsequent Taxation of Articles now free from Duty.

Mr. Parkes agrees with the said Royal Commissioners, that whenever the Siamese Government deem it to be beneficial for the country

SIAM.
No. CXV. to impose a single Tax or Duty on any article not now subject to a public charge of any kind, they are at liberty to do so, provided that the said tax be just and reasonable.

ARTICLE 10.

On the Boundaries of the Four-mile Circuit.

It is stipulated in the 4th Article of the Treaty, that "British subjects coming to reside at Bangkok may rent land, and buy or build houses, but cannot purchase lands within a circuit of 200 sen (not more than four miles English) from the city walls, until they shall have lived in Siam for ten years, or shall obtain special authority from the Siamese Government to enable them to do so."

The points to which this circuit extends due north, south, east, and west of the city, and the spot where it crosses the river below Bangkok, have accordingly been measured by Officers on the part of the Siamese and English; and their measurements, having been examined and agreed to by the said Royal Commissioners and Mr. Parkes, are marked by stone pillars placed at the under-mentioned localities, viz. :—

On the North:—One sen north of Wat Kemabherataram.

On the East:—Six sen and seven fathoms south-west of Wat Bangkopi.

On the South:—About nineteen sen south of the village of Bangpakio.

On the West:—About two sen south-west of the village of Bangphrom.

The pillars marking the spot where the circuit line crosses the river below Bangkok are placed on the left bank three sen below the village of Bangmanan, and on the right bank about one sen below the village of Banglampuam.

ARTICLE 11.

On the Boundaries of the 24-hours' Journey.

It is stipulated in the 4th Article of the Treaty, that, "excepting within the circuit of four miles, British merchants in Siam may at any time buy or rent houses, lands, or plantations, situated any where
